bout 13 miles from Charleston. Another joining plantation of 350 acres for sale Both are about 3-4 miles from a good landing.

To be sold by Thomas Ferguson, executor of the estate of Hugh Ferguson, on Feb. 15, at the house of Adam Culliatt in Jacksonburgh, Ponpon, the plantation at the Horse-Shoe in St.Bartholomew's Parish of about 1700 acres bounded E by Charles Jones, S by Messrs. Snipes and Clifford. Another tract of 300 acres bounded W on Ponpon River, E on Thomas Meek, Esq. and joining Ponpon Bridge.

The copartnership of Dawson & Dudley expired last year. Mr. Dudley plans to leave the province and asks persons to pay them promptly.

Philip Tidyman, Jeweller and Goldsmith has imported plate and jewellery. "He very little exceeds the London price."

William Withers will sell March 23 at Charles-Town the plantation formerly advertised, belonging to Doctor Mottet on Foster's Creek, 617 acres in Goose Creek. Details from Carne & Wilson or Mr. John Calvert in Charles-Town, or in the country with Dr. Mottet or William Withers.

Wanted to be built on the South-Carolina Society's land, 2 "chair-houses, stables and fences." Contact John Scott, Daniel Cannon, Richard Muncrief, Samuel Prioleau, Junior or William Ancrum.

Jonathan Drake offers for sale at his plantation March 2, a tract of about 2000 acres known as Coatbaw in St.John's Parish, bounding the plantation of Sir Alexander Nisbet, and the Cooper and Back River. Only 6 miles by water from Charles-Town, a brick house and other buildings. Also 50 valuable slaves mostly country born, cattle, working oxen and household goods.

John McDougal, Jan. 23, 1768, gives notice that he did attend court of General Sessions for the killing of Joseph Jordan, "not withstanding the malicious prosecution that my bitter enemies set on foot against me, without a sense of humanity, or the least regard for common honesty."

CHARLES-TOWN. Since our last, 60 sail of vessels have arrived here, 24 of which came in in one day (chiefly from Europe and after tedious passages, being above double the number that ever arrived here before in one week).
In this first are come Major Thomas Whitmore and Ensign Goodarte? of His Majesty's 9th Regiment; Mr. Alexander Rose, Mr. William Michie, Mr. John Jamieson, Mr. Thomas Buckle, merchants; Master Oliphant and other passengers.
Also Mr. Bowen who introduced the manufacture of Sago, Vermicelli, Salop and Soy into Georgia, for which he received a medal from the Society for the Encouragement of Arts in London, and we hear, has obtained a royal patent to import the same into Great Britain free of duties.
On the vessels arrived since our last, the JENIFER,Kerr, was bound for Maryland, and having been 16 weeks at sea, put in here for provisions. The VAUGHAN, Davis was bound for Boston and put in very leaky, and the KING GEORGE, Finglas was bound for New York.
Capt. John Williamson of the Brigantine LOYALTY, from London fell overboard at sea about four weeks ago and was drowned.
The brigantine LORD DUNGANNON has brought in about 120, and the snow BETTY GREG, 150 more passengers from the North of Ireland to settle in this province upon the Bounty. [See COUNCIL JOURNAL, pp. 56-60 and 74-78, respectively]
The snow TRYTON of Liverpool, John Anderson, Master, from Madera, bound for New York was spok's [spoken to] with all well on board, the 27th past in lat[itude] 30 N[orth] and long[itude] 74 W[est] by Capt. Martin of the brigantine ELIZABETH from Dundee.

Last Thursday James Nesbitt (a Mulatto) convicted of petty larceny at the last [court] session was publickly whipt, pursuant to his sentence, and tomorrow is to receive a second flagellation.
Wednesday next is the day appointed for execution of George Burns, Thomas Gray, and Arthur Sikes, convicted at the last, and Ephraim Jones condemned at a former session for robbing Mr. Scott.

WASHINGTON COUNTY IN 1784

Created by the Georgia Legislature, with Franklin Co., Feb. 25, 1784 from Creek Indian Land cessions of Nov. 1, 1783, Washington was the 10th county formed.

The Legislature on Feb. 3, 1786 cut off the north portion of Washington County to form Greene Co. (the 11th). The land set aside for "The Continental Reserve" fell entirely into Greene Co. Some of the warrants issued for Washington Co. before Feb. 1786 thus fell into Greene Co. thereafter.

Subsequently land was taken from Washington Co. with the

HEAD-RIGHT AND BOUNTY GRANTS

While the Revolutionary War was still in progress, The General Assembly of Georgia passed two Acts relating to the granting of land but until 1782 the State was overrun and occupied by the British and the government was so disorganized that the necessary official machinery for surveying and granting land was never perfected. As a result both of those Acts became ineffectual, and are referred to here only as a matter of historical interest. The first of these was the Act of June 7, 1777 (as amended by the Act of September 16, 1777) entitled "An Act for opening a l and office and for the better settling and strengthening this State"; the second was the Act of January 23, 1780, entitled "An Act for the more speedy and effectual settling and strengthening this State". Actually only a very few surveys were ever made under those Acts and the first grant of land based on any of such surveys was not signed and issued until October 22, 1783. Neither Act provided for a fee-simple grant, but both followed the Colonial requirement for the annual payment of rent of two shillings on each hundred acres in the grant, in addition to settlement and cultivation within nine months. However, both Acts recognized the fact that many Colonial and State records had been lost or destroyed during the War and stipulated that despite their loss those persons who could produce some proof of an application for survey or an agreement to purchase or settlement under any Colonial law or grant would be entitled to confirming grants. One feature of both Acts which was followed in every subsequent Act was that a man would be entitled to 200 acres as his own head-right plus an additional 50 acres for his wife, each child and each slave but that in no event could the total grant exceed 1000 acres.

The first effective land Act was the Act of February 17, 1783 (as amended by the Act of August 1, 1783) entitled "An Act for opening the land office and for other purposes therein mentioned". This Act allowed a man to take up 200 acres upon his own head-right free of any charge except office fees for survey and grant, plus an additional 50 acres upon the head of each member of his family at sales prices ranging from one to four shillings per acre, and it limited any grant to a maximum of 1000 acres. The rights of persons who had previously received warrants of survey were ratified and they were declared to be entitled to grants of land then occupied by them. Those persons who, under legislation passed during the War, had become entitled to bounty lands, such as citizens who had not molested their neighbors' families or property, refugees who had served in militia companies outside of the state, militiamen of the State and men who had served in the minute battalions were declared entitled to grants without charge except for office fees. The machinery for granting land, as set up by this Act, was as follows. The applicant for land would appear before the land court of the county in which he desired land, composed of at five Justices and after making oath as to the size of his family including slaves, would obtain a warrant of survey. The county surveyor would then lay out his land, keep a copy of the plat of survey in his office and forward a copy to the Surveyor-General. After living on the land a year and cultivating at least three per cent of the acreage, the settler would then apply to the Governor's office for his grant and pay all purchase price due and all office fees. The grant would then be issued and recorded.

The Act of February 25, 1784 which was passed primarily to create and open up Franklin and Washington Counties, made some revisions in the grant laws theretofore enacted. The sales price of land in those two counties was fixed at three shillings per acre and the miximum grant was again limited to 1000 acres. Bounty grants could be located in the new counties and all bounty grants in all counties were no longer to be tax free for ten years but were to be increased by fifteen per cent in acreage. A large section in what later became Greene County was reserved exclusively for bounty grants to men who had served in the Continental Line or Navy, as distinguished from citizens, refugees or militiamen. For the first year members of the Executive Council were to act as the land courts for the new counties, prior to their organization.

Under the Act of February 22, 1785 the provisions for payment of a purchase price or consideration for granted land, other than office fees, were removed and thereafter all land was granted free. Cultivation was no longer a requisite. However, the restrictions as to the amount of land to which a man was entitled upon his own and his family's head-rights and the restriction as to the 1000 acre maximum grant remained unchanged. No surveys for bounty grants were to be made after February 22, 1786 but as to bounty land surveyed prior to that date a grant could be made upon the warrant at any time thereafter.

No information whatsoever as to the State or County of a man's former residence, or as to names of his wife or members of his family appear upon either the warrant for survey, the recorded plat of survey or the recorded grant. Only the grantee's name is shown on those records in the Surveyor-General's office.

VIRGINIA LAWS - 1748 (continued)

WILLIAM JORDAN, GENTLEMAN. BERNARD GAINS, deceased, late of Richmond Co., VA, was seised of land in Lunenburg Parish, Richmond Co., 600 acres, entailed with the remainder to go to DANIEL GAINS and heirs of his body, and the remainder [after Daniel] to go to Sittenburne Parish "for the use of a glebe for the minister thereof...."

Sometime in 1746 Bernard contracted with William Jordan, Gentleman, of Richmond Co. to sell that entailed land for £8,000, and gave his bond 8-11-1746, under penalty of £1,600. If the tract were worth less than £200 Sterling within four months, Jordan would receive a deed. If more than £200 Sterling, then Gains would apply to the next General Assembly and settle the entail on another tract "so that the intail thereof should be docked and the Fee Simple [title] vested in the said William Jordan...."

If the entail could not be docked, then Gains, his heirs, administrators or executors, would repay William Jordan all the money Gains had received on credit. Gains received "upwards to Six hundred pounds current money, whereby he was enabled to purchase a large and very valuable tract of land lying and being in the Parish of Saint Ann in the County of Albemarle, containing by estimation 3,000 acres or thereabouts, and also sundry valuable slaves, stocks, and household goods, and settled upon and seated the tract of land, intending in a short time to remove himself and his family, which was encreasing and likely to become numerous upon the same [Albemarle land]."

Gains' first attempt to dock the entail failed. Sometime in 1746 he "did publickly Advertize at the several churches in the Parish of Lunenburg that Application would be by him made to the next succeeding General Assembly to obtain an act for docking the intail of the said 600 acres, designing at that time to settle the said tract of 3,000 acres [Albemarle] or part thereof that should be equivalent, to the same uses in lieu thereof [of the entailed land].

But before the meeting of any General Assembly the said Bernard Gains, sometime in the month of November, in the year of our Lord 1747, departed this life leaving Elizabeth, his widow, and four small children of tender years, one male and three females.

And whereas the said Bernard Gains being convinced at the time of the sickness from which he died, that his slaves and personal estate would not be sufficient to satisfy his debts," if the contract with William Jordan could not be completed, made a will which ordered the sale of the Albemarle land, with proceeds to go toward paying Jordan and other debts.

"Upon the supposition that the Intail of the said 600 acres of land could not be docked after his death, and even at the time of making the said will, intended to make another [will]" and name persons "to solicit the General Assembly for an act for docking" the 600 acre tract's entail.

Approval of the entail swap from the 600 acre to the 3,000 acre tract would serve to preserve "not only all the slaves, stocks, and other personal estate of the said Bernard Gaines will be preserved and remain to be distributed among his widow and Relict, Elizabeth, and his said children to the manifest benefit and improvement of the said 3,000 acres of land... and to support and maintenance of the said Elizabeth, and her Children, but there will also remain due from the said William Jordan, a considerable ballance after the payment of all the debts of the said Bernard Gaines."

Unless the swap was approved, the Albemarle land which "is daily improved in its Value ... and Elizabeth and her said Children must all unavoidable be reduced to the most extreme poverty and become destitute of all manner of support and subsistance."

The Assembly approved the swap of the entail, transferring it to the Albemarle tract, to be held and "vested in DANIEL GAINS, the son of the said Bernard Gains, deceased, in fee tail, under the same restrictions...."

ORANGE COUNTY DIVIDED. "For the greater ease and convenience of the inhabitants of the County of Orange in attending Courts and other public meetings," The county would be divided on 5-17-1749 into two counties.

The portion lying south of Rappahanock River to the head of Conway River would retain the name of Orange County. The north side of Rappahanock and Conway River "commonly called the Fork of Rappahanock River" would become Culpeper County.

GOOCHLAND COUNTY DIVIDED. Effective 5-20-1749, Goochland would be divided to create two counties. The portion lying south of James River would become Cumberland Co., and that on the north would remain Goochland Co. [Cumberland included both itself and present Powhatan Co. in this division.]

TAPPAHANNOCK. When the town of Tappahanock, Essex Co., was surveyed 8-31-1744 by ROBERT BROOKE, Gentleman, surveyor of the county, "there appears to be a small slipe of land between the town and river, the property of ROBERT SPILSBY COLEMAN and others, and it being reasonable that the said slipe of land should be annexed to the said town, and that the proprietors thereof should have satisfaction for the same..."

The portion of land would hereafter be vested in BENJAMIN ROBINSON, WILLIAM BEVERLEY, ALEXANDER PARKER and WILLIAM DAINGERFIELD, Gentlemen, "the present Feoffees of the said town and their successors in fee simple" as if it had been part of the original boundaries of the town.

These men would have "full power to make sale of the lots so laid off at public auction to the highest bidder, for ready money, so as no person shall purchase more than one lot." Money raised, less the cost of survey and sale, would be paid to the land's present owners.

DAWLEY - Mrs. Alice G. Martin, 43185 Smoketree St., Indio, CA 92201-2424, e-mail: agmartin.indio@worldnet.att.net; JAMES DAWLEY was Sheriff of Princess Anne Co., VA, in 1792. His wife Elizabeth joined him in deeds in 1797 and 1800. He performed marriages there as early as 1791, but the records don't indicate the church. James and MARGARET BAKER were m. 1802, with HANCE BAKER as security.

Was Hance the father of MOSELEY BAKER whose wife ELIZABETH WARD PICKETT was the sister of ALBERT J. PICKETT? Was Hance Margaret's father or brother?

Did James and Elizabeth have a dau. SUSAN BAKER DAWLEY b. 1810? Her father was a clergyman.

James Dawley m. 1809 MRS. ALICE DICK, with DENNIS WHITEHURST, security. THE NORFOLK GAZETTE 12-14-1814 listed the death of James Dawley at Murfreesborough, NC, 12-4-1814, where his will was proved 9-2-1814. Son Dennis & Elizabeth.

JAMES DAWLEY m. MRS. SALLY SMITH 1820, in Princess Anne Co., VA. JAMES DAWLEY m. MRS. MARY DUDLEY 1826 there. A deed in Isle of Wight Co., VA, 1829 made by WILLIAM G. DARDEN and wife SUSAN B. DAWLEY, proved that her father was James Dawley, deceased.

"Any suggestions as to how to separate and define these marriages would be greatly appreciated," added Mrs. Martin.

EDITOR'S NOTE: You apparently have two, or possible three, men of the same name. Did the will of James who d. 1814 show that he had a son named James, Jr.?

McCALL - BEALS - WARE - Mrs. Freida Hill McCall, 3549 Sand Hill Dr., Conyers, GA 30094, is researching these family who lived in Screven, Pulaski, Dooly, and Chatham Cos., GA in the 1700s and 1800s. His brother JOHN MAYES moved to Franklin Co., GA from Union Co., SC, about 1800. John was an accomplished song leader, and Hebron Elder. His wife was Margaret ?, and their 11 children were: Robert, Harvey, Edward, William, Allen Newton, Cynthia, Thomas, Lettice, Jane, Isabella, and Malinda.
What was mother Margaret's maiden name? Who were the parents of Thomas and John Mayes? Did Thomas marry and have children?

DUNKIN - DUNCAN - Mrs. Patricia J. Mills, 1340 Rhodes Ave., Sarasota FL 34239, 941/957-0293, email: patije-roy@worldnet.att.net

HENRY DUNKIN or DUNCAN d. ca. 1712, and was the husband of Dorothy? What was her maiden name - Towers, McClanahan, Dunkin, or Waters? Was he married to someone else before he married Dorothy? Who were his children? Was he the sheriff of Westmoreland Co., VA, ca. 1695? Need proof, if so.
BENJAMIN BLANCHFLOWER DUNCAN, son of Henry and Lettice, sold 319 acres on Pimmit's Run, adj. Parson Scott's land 1765. What was Lettice's maiden name? Was she Benjamin's cousin LETTICE MOONEY?
Benjamin B.'s sons John, Gerrard and Blanchflower, Jr., of Cople Parish sold land to GEORGE TURBERVILLE 2-1728. John moved to Rowan Co., NC. What happened to Gerrard and Blanchflower, Jr.? Whom did they marry? Where did they settle? Who were their wives? Who were their children?

COTTON - CATLEDGE - Mr. David Moore, 994 Terraha Dr., Early, TX 76802-2525, e-mail: dave.moore@juno.com; is seeking information on ancestors, descendants of DAVID COTTON b. ca. 1814 TN, and his wife Hannah ? b. ca. 1816 TN. Both may have died 1850-60, perhaps in Winston Co., MS, or Winn Parish, LA.
They had at least 4 children all born in Winston Co.: Obediah Overton b. 1835 m. NANCY KINCY; Mary Elizabeth b. 1839-42 m. ALVIN MONROE PUGH, son of TIGNAL PUGH and MARY CATLEDGE [sic]; James D. b. 1844-46; and Henry b. 1847.
David's parents were ALLEN COTTON b. 1780-90 who lived in Tuscaloosa Co., AL by 1816, and possibly Mary ?. There were at least five more children: Overton b. 1805 TN m. REBECCA ELIZABETH WILLIAMS; Elizabeth b. 1810 TN m. ABSALOM MORGAN MILLS; Martha Ann b. 1812 m. JAMES CATLEDGE, son of ELIJAH CATLEDGE and Susanna ?; and Polly or Mary m. JOHN P. WILLIAMS.
Would also like information on Elijah Catledge b. 1787 SC, and his wife Susanna ? who were in Anson Co., NC 1810-20. Were his parents JOHN CARTLEDGE [sic] and Sarah ? of Chesterfield Co., SC?

GILLESPIE - STARRETT - Mrs. Jimmie Inez Moore, 1108 Estates Dr., Seymour, TN 37865-4139 needs the maiden name of Ruth ? who

m. WILLIAM STARRETT and lived in Lincoln Co., NC. Children: Elizabeth m. 1787 JOHN GILLESPIE, JR. b. ca. 1755; and Alexander m. MARY GILLESPIE, John's sister, in 1789.
Were William's parents ALEXANDER STARRETT, and Abigail ?.
What was the maiden name of Mary who m. JOHN GILLESPIE ca. 1753? Was she the dau. or sister of FRANCIS BEATTY who purchased land the same day as did John in 1768, Lincoln Co., NC? Was John related to THOMAS GILLESPIE (wife NAOMI THOMPSON); MATTHEW GILLESPIE (wife ANN PICKENS m. 1722), or JOSEPH GILLESPIE, all of whom settled on Sill's Creek by 1759?
Any information on any Gillespie in NC or SC would be appreciated. Postage and copy expenses gladly refunded.

PALMER - WOOD - TIPTON - MANGUM - Mrs. Joanne Collom Moore, Corona, Frenchman's Bayou, AR 72338-0127, needs the parentage of both MARY CATHARINE QUENESS, and THOMAS PALMER who moved from Halifax Co., VA to Union Co., SC. His will was signed 1808. Was Mary a DeJARNETTE?
Who were parents of STEPHEN WOOD, will proved 1782 in Lunenburg Co., VA? What was the maiden name of Mary, wife of JOSEPH JOHNSON, father-in-law of Stephen, whose will was proved 1761 in Lunenburg Co.?
What was the maiden name of Rachel, wife of LUKE TIPTON b. 1760 Baltimore, MD, who lived in Holmes Co., OH, PA, and d. 1855 Weakley Co., TN?
Need parents of JAMES A. MANGUM b. 1823 Granville Co., NC, who d. 1890 Weakley Co., TN.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Have you looked at local or regional newspapers for obituaries of any of these? Church memorials or tributes might also provide some information. Admittedly, it's hard to learn a married woman's maiden name, but sometimes clues are found in the names she gave her children.

NEWMAN - Mrs. Louise F. Morgan, 2490 Stowe Ferry Rd., Alexander City, AL 35010-7668, found SAMUEL NEWMAN and wife EVE CASTLEBERRY living in Washington Co., GA, in early 1800s. Where and when were they married? Was her surname the German KESSELBERG? Who were her parents? Was she born in Germany, or elsewhere?

THOMAS NEWMAN m. SARAH MALPHUS 1-26-1819 in Tattnall Co., GA. Was he Samuel's son?
LEMUEL NEWMAN, son of Samuel and Eve, was b. ca. 1775, where? About 1810 he m. Mary (Polly) ? b. ca. 1795 NC. Where and when did they marry? Was she a MALPHUS or a MOFFATT, or did Lemuel marry two different Marys? Who were her parents? The Lemuel Newmans moved from Washington Co., GA, to AL before 1840.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Anyone who lived to be counted in the 1850 census had to report his or her place of birth. By 1880 their children had to respond to the place of birth of their parents.
These two census questions might answer Eve's birthplace, though it might have been Switzerland, since a large part of it is German-speaking, instead of Germany.
Should Eve die before 1850, then move on to the responses of any of her children you can find in the 1880 census. It might also be wise to see what responses all of her living children gave to the question. Sometimes there is a difference of opinion, which should send you to some further record for proof.

MORRIS - GILBREATH - Mr. Harold Lynn Morris, P.O. Box 791022, New Orleans, LA 70179-1022, 504/482-3765, seeks the birth date, place, and parents of THOMAS MORRIS b. 1790-1800, d. 11-29-1840 in Crawford Co., AR. He m. 5-20-1816 St. Clair Co., IL, ESTHER GILBREATH b. 3-16-1801 Buncombe Co., NC, d. 9-20-1866 Hopkins Co., TX. She was the dau. of JAMES GILBREATH (1776-1855) and JEAN WALKER. Esther was also the widow of CHARLES WHITSON.
Children of Thomas and Esther Morris were: Mariah Bell, Washington, James Gilbreath, Melissa, Henderson Walker, Emily Caroline and Thomas Russell.

GLENN - Mrs. Josephine Crittenberger Nall, P.O. Box 2186, Willingboro, NJ 08046, is researching the family of JOHN GLENN and wife Elizabeth ?. John was b. ca. 1798, probably in Washington Co., GA, and may have been son of JOHN GLENN, and grandson of DUKE GLENN who d. 1788 in Greene Co., GA. Since Washington Co. records are burned for the period, proof is difficult.

What was Elizabeth's maiden name? She was b. GA, probably in Washington Co. John and Elizabeth m. ca. 1819, and these may have been their children:
William Madison b. GA ca. 1821, d. TX 1863, m. MARY CATHERINE MURDOCK 1846-47 Barbour or Dale Co., AL.
Almira b. ca. 1823 GA, d. 1905 Dale Co., AL, m. JOHN ARD.
Caroline Ann b. ca. 1824 GA, d. 1909 Dale Co., AL, m. JAMES ARD, brother of John.
Thomas H. b. 1825-27, d. 1901 Dale Co., AL, m. 1st Martha (possibly LAWSON), 2nd AGNES HARPER.
Walter S. b. ca. 1828 GA, d. 1862 in Civil War, m. ca. 1848 ADLINE L. GREENWAY [sic].
James Robert b. 8-1830 GA, d. 1863 in Civil War m. NICEA LOUVENIA BLANTON 1861 Clarke Co., AL.
Nicholas b. 1832 GA, m. Julia ?; he d. by 1866.
Elizabeth N. b. 1835 GA, d. before 1882, m. WILLIAM A. LEWIS 1865.
Frances b. ca. 1839 GA, never married, d. after May 1902 Dale Co., AL.
John H. b. ca. 1840 GA, possibly m. Elizabeth ?.
Augustus S. b. ca. 1842 GA, possibly m. MRS. LOUISA H. THOMPSON in Barbour Co., AL in 1863.
Hershel V. b. ca. 1847 Dale Co., AL, probably m. 1868 MANERVA BIZZELL in Barbour Co., then went to TX.
Mittie Liena [sic] b. 7-1850, m. her brother-in-law W.A. LEWIS 1885.
About 1847 John and Elizabeth Glenn moved the family to Dale Co., AL, and lived near Barnes' Cross Roads. John d. 11-1-1879, and Elizabeth 8-1878. Both were buried at Post Oak Cemetery. Family may have been Methodists. Any information on a Southern Glenn would be appreciated!

CRAWFORD - Mrs. Billie Nast, 4630 Haeckerville Rd., Cibolo, TX 78108, email: brnast@aol.com; is seeking parents of ARTHUR CRAWFORD b. 1762 Belfast, County Antrim, Ireland. He m. Catherine ? who d. before 1824. What was her maiden name, dates, parentage? Where were she and Arthur buried?

Arthur's will, recorded in Gainesville, Hall Co., GA, left his estate to ELIZABETH REID. It also allowed ROBERT HENDERSON to live in a house which then passed to Elizabeth. Who were Elizabeth and Robert, and what was their connection to Arthur?
Robert's son HENDERSON CRAWFORD was b. 7-19-1796 Elbert Co., GA, went to LA, and d. 1853. Need names and dates of any of his siblings.
Arthur was listed on the roll of SC and GA veterans of the Revolutionary War. He was also in the 1790 census of SC, and the 1790 reconstructed GA census. He received 159½ acres of bounty land in Jackson Co., GA.
Family names used through the generations: Henderson, Arthur, Donaldson, Alexander and Catherine.

EDITOR'S NOTE: How could Arthur be listed in both SC and GA census? Because the "reconstructed" census of GA was made from assorted tax digests which may have been taken several years after the actual census count was made in SC.
Since Arthur was listed as a Revolutionary veteran, did he ever apply for a pension? If he obtained one, the final return would show names of his surviving children or widow frequently.

NEELY - NEVELS - Mrs. Wayne Q. Nevels, 1806 MacArthur Dr., Vicksburg, MS 39180-3760 needs the names and birthdates of children of JOHN NEVILS and wife Margaret ? of Amelia Co., VA. One son was JAMES NEVILS b. 7-11-1733.
Is anyone researching JOHN NEELY and wife Clarissa ? who resided in Williamson Co., TN, ca. 1812? What was her maiden name? When and where were they married -- in VA?
Who were the parents of PARIS LEWIS NEELY, resident of Davidson Co., TN, in 1797? Interested in exchanging information; will pay copy and postage costs.

HARRELL - Mrs. Mildred Northcutt, 2999 Fred Koch Rd., Carlisle, AR 72024-8935, asks the parentage of ELIAS HARRELL, He was in the Lonoke Co., AR, 1880 census with STEPHEN TRAVIS NORTHCUTT who was from Darlington, SC, and Elias was b. SC. Following Elias' name was "ward" and he was 18. Elias was raised in AR by Stephen. Another boy, PAUL WINBORN age 10, b. MS, was in the household.

Can anyone help?

EDITOR'S NOTE: The word "ward" is a clue. If used correctly, there would be some legal record of Stephen being appointed as guardian of Elias. Look in the county court's guardianship records.

STEPHEN RUSSELL MALLORY

Born 1813 in Trinidad, W[est] Indies. Was lawyer and political leader.
Was inspector of customs at Key West, Florida, under Pres. Jackson (1832).
Served in the Florida War against the Seminole Indians.
Was U.S. Senator from Florida from 1851-1861
Upon Florida's secession from the Union in 1861, Mallory chosen Secretary of Confederate Navy. He had to build a navy, since there was a navy in name only at that time.
He advocated construction of ironclad ships. A navy became a "floating reality" and Mallory was a successful administrator.
He was held a political prisoner of war for a year at the close of the war, but was pardoned by Pres. Johnson in 1867.

WILLIAM ARTHUR MALLORY

William Arthur Mallory was born at his mother's ancestral estate near Louisville in Jefferson County, Georgia, March 24th 1870. He left this world from the [Methodist] parsonage at Adel shortly after midnight on the morning of December 26th 1929.

His father, E.T. Mallory, a Canadian by birth and a Georgian by adoption, was a christian gentleman and a successful business man. His mother, Caroline Cheatham Mallory, lived Christ before her son and brought him up "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord."

He was converted "when just a little lad" at old Mount Moriah Camp Ground in Jefferson Co. Moved to Forsyth, GA, joined the Methodist Church. Went to Georgia Tech, then to Emory College. When 20, he was licensed at Mulberry Street Church, Macon, GA.

Married Miss Maude Holmes, in 1st Methodist Church, Fort Scott, KS, 6-28-1893. She was reared at Bloomington, IL. One dau. Elsie. Then followed his ministerial history.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF MY PARENTS' ANCESTORS

Caleb Mallory, ggf on father's side, came from England with his 3 brothers, all officers in the English Army during the Revolutionary War. Caleb settled in Washington, Litchfield Co., CT, "and was there murdered, an account of which I will give later."

Aaron Mallory, another brother, settled at Three Rivers, Canada. Another brother settled in Kings County, near St. John, New Brunswick. The fourth brother settled in MA. "These three men were uncles to my grandfather Dr. Jonathan Nobles Mallory.

My grandfather was a son of Caleb Mallory who was murdered. I have no date of his birth, but he died in the West Indies with fever, where he had gone for his health and rest, his health failing from overwork in his profession. The date of his death was September, 1796.

He was a widower with 4 children when he married my grandmother, Miss Anna Nevers. Three of these children were named Sherman, John and Charlotte. They were burned alive in the house with their grandfather and grandmother who were murdered. The fourth child's name is not known, but he was killed with a club at the same time.

My grandmother on father's side was born December 24, 1768, and died April 28, 1858. When her husband left for the West Indies for his health and rest, she had one child named William N. Mallory, who was my father. He was 11 months old when his father died." Mother moved back to Morgerville, New Brunswick, Canada, where the boy grew up. At 16 he became a drummer in the War of 1812. His mother m. 2nd Helkiah Karney of Morgerville 11-1801, and had 4 children: Peggy m. James Hiscock, John, James and Alex. Grandmother died at Peggy's home at the age of 88 years 6 months.

Father [W.N. Mallory] m. Jane Snow, 11-12-1818, and had 7 sons, 4 daus. "All the children grew to old age except Elizabeth, who was buried on her 15th birthday." W.N. Mallory was b. 7-11-1795, d. 10-25-1886, age 91 years 3½ months.

Jane Snow Mallory was b. 9-14-1801, d. 8-15-1847, aged 45 years 11 months. Their children: Josiah b. 8-9-1819, d. 2-24-1903, age 83 years 6 months; John b. 11-20-1820, d. 10-17-1906, 86 years 11 mos.; Ann b. 2-8-1822, d. 1-13-1911, age 89 years 11 mos., 5 days; Margaret b. 2-26-1824, d. 9-29-1903, 79 years 7 mos.; Helkiah b. 6-1-1825, d. 11-10-1910, 85 years 5 mos., 3 days; Elisha b. 4-12-1827, d. 1-13-1894, 66 years 10 mos.; William b. 3-4-1829, d. 1-17-1911, 81 years 10 mos., 3 days; Harriet b. 2-21-1831, d. 8-25-1904, 73 years 6 mos; Elizabeth b. 10-5-1835, d. 10-3-1850, aged 15.

"Only two are left alive, one of these is 80 years 6 months, and the other is 74 years old at this writing, Dec. 10th 1913."

Caleb Mallory and his family were wealthy, and lived in Washington, Litchfield Co., CT. A man servant named Davenport on 2-3-1780 killed the old couple with an axe while they slept. Three grandchildren sleeping nearby were awakened; he locked them in their room, and set the house on fire. He clubbed the fourth to death. Davenport was later hung for the crime.

The dead children were half-siblings of W.N. Mallory, who m. 11-12-1818 in Wakefield, New Brunswick, Jane Snow. They were buried "on the banks of the St. Johns River in New Brunswick. Josiah Mallory was buried at Perth, N.B. John and Harriet Mallory were buried in Jackstown, N.B., Helkiah, William and Ann Mallory were buried in MA. Elizabeth Mallory was buried by the St. John's River, N.B. Elisha Mallory was buried in Kathleen, FL."

On the Snow side of the family, gggm Constance Hopkins came from England in the Mayflower "with her father Steven Hopkins in 1620." She m. Nicholas Snow who came to America in 1623, and had son Josiah Snow who m. Elizabeth Shaw. Josiah and Elizabeth Snow had 13 children, including Jane who m. William N. Mallory.

GA ARCHIVES CLOSING FOR REPAIRS IN DEC.

Thanks to Mr. Ken Thomas for notifying us that the Georgia Dept. of Archives and History in Atlanta, GA will be closed to walk-in researchers from Dec. 15th 1997 through Jan. 7th 1998 to have repairs made on the building. Mail, telephone and e-mail reference service will be available on a limited basis. To verify their reopening, call 404/656-2393 or check their website at:

http://www.sos.state.ga.us/archives

The Special Collections Dept. at Emory University's Woodruff Library in Atlanta, GA will also be closed for renovations from Dec. 4th 1997 through Jan. 31st 1998. For information about limited use of the collections during that period call Beverly Allen at 404/727-6887.

PARTITION

No, not a room divider, but a very important, but unfamiliar term in legal records.

"PARTITION - the dividing of land held by joint tenants, or tenants in common, into distinct portions, so that they may hold them individually."

WHY GO TO ALL THIS TROUBLE AND EXPENSE?

In some estates the heirs ranged in age from infancy to senility! The heirs could only share profits of the land each year, but could not control, or sell the land, until the YOUNGEST heir came of age! Who'd want to wait that long? So they thought it was in their best interest to petition for the division, and take their chance on getting a choice piece which they could own, occupy, mortgage, or sell!

"Partition may be voluntary or judicial. It is voluntary when it is made among all the co-heirs present, of age, and by their mutual consent.
It is judicial when it is made by the authority of the court, according to formalities prescribed by law." [BLACK'S LAW DICTIONARY, 3rd Revised Edition]

Judicial partitions, particularly, create voluminous records! The court stepped in when some of the heirs petitioned for a partition of property left to them jointly.
It was the responsibility of the court to see that the interests of any minor heir was protected in such a division, so a "guardian ad litem" was appointed for each child. In the process, the relationship of the minor to the decedent is given, and frequently the child's age.
In South Carolina these actions will be found in the COURT OF EQUITY (earlier CHANCERY); in most other states they are heard by the county court sitting for a "Chancery" or "Equity" action.
When a court decided to divide the land among the heirs, it appoints a group of men to look over the tract, and recommend how it might be divided into equal parts. This commission reports back to the court, suggesting how the split might be made.
Sometimes their recommendation is that the tract be sold, and money divided among the heirs.
It's up to the members of the court to decide whether or not to follow the commissioners' recommendation. Sometimes the court has other ideas!
If a division of land is approved, each piece is assigned a letter or number designation, and each heir (or guardian) draws a slip of paper with a designation on it. The tract is then assigned by the court to the heir who drew it, and title given. The minor's portion remains in the hands of the guardian, to be managed for the child's best interest until the boy reached 21, or the girl 18 (or married).

SOME "Early" SOUTH CAROLINA MARRIAGE RECORDS: 1641-1799. I have no found a single source for marriage records prior to 1800 in South Carolina, so have started one of my own. Any additions or correction to this file would be appreciated. E-Mail me at prsjr@aol.com

This is a "Comma-delimited" ASCII data file for some 4,756 marriages in Sout Carolina. The first file is indexed" by last name of "Groom", giving Marriage da location and "Source Information". Second file is "Indexed" by "Brides" last na (SC_B1800.ZIP)

South Carolina marriage records have been difficult to obtain. Until 1911 ther were no legal requirements for keeping records in South Carolina, as in other states. Some SC records were gathered by HUNTING FOR BEARS, INC. Which taken from newspapers, church records, pension applications, and other sourc where marriage records could be found. Many thanks to Dorothy Ledbetter Mu and Nicholas Russell Murray, Hunting For Bears, Inc., P.O. Box 25593, Salt Lake City, Utah 84125.

The following 4,756 marriage records, are from 1641 to 1799 only.

1. MAJOR CORRECTION: Diane Costello's Email on the Huttons of 11 Feb 1999, This is a major correction. We had thought that James/Sarah were the parents of our Leonard. WRONG. James is the BROTHER OF JOHN WHO WE HAVE PROVED IS THE FATHER OF LEONARD!!
2. MAJOR CORRECTION: Diane Costello's Email on the Huttons of 11 Feb 1999, She cited two children of Leonard and Nancy Baugh Hutton as Elizabeth b1829 and Mahlon b1830. 'Course, I have Martha Ann Hutton as a child also. She married John Henry Pafford in 1856.
3. Research of Diane Costello has provided most of this research. Costello always documents her statements with primary or secondary sources.
4. Costello's research states that they had 7 children and migrated to MO.
5. "Old Families of Randolph Co., MO, A People's History" by Hist. Soc. 1976, p141, Email query sent by DEEMATH@aol.com quoting this book referring to her grandfather, Joseph Campbell Hutton, son of Wm Dixon Hutton.
6. Phil Thomas Pafford sent in this info to SLC's Ancestral File #AF86000351, My research also shows this generation link with John Pafford b c1806 being the father of my James Robert Pafford. He did add some spouses for some of the other children of John-1806.
7. This IGI file AFN: D3lG-J5 says his Father was John , Mother Sarah Ann Keyes, wife is Martha Ann Hutton AfN: 5COL-7V.
8. Info from IGI file AFN:D3lG-HO, this file seems to say that another m for John Henry 1832 was a Ruth Paine Goodwin Sanborn, which sounds like a widow that perhaps he m later on in life.
9. Hutton Family Cemetery, Marion,Smythe co., VA, Tombstone Record.
10. Capitol Hill, OK newspaper announced that Mrs. E. G. Flanagan had received notice of the death of her younger sister June 1906, This could be either Florence or Birten Flanagan,.
11. Safrona Adeline Flanagan was interred at Rose Hills Memorial,Whittier,CA 2 Mar 1934.
12. Oklahoma County, OK County Court House Records, I have Indenture from Territory of OK, 30 June 1898 from E. G. Flanagan and wife, Sofraonia A. Flanagan to J. I. Case Corp. of Racine, WI., SW 1/4th of Sec. 23, Town 11, Range 2 West. Then another document is where Emory and his bro, Boyd M. are going in together, it seems, to buy farm equipment from this Case Corp. and they are putting up their land.Then 23 June 1899, Emory Flanagan and his bro, Boyd M. are selling to the same Corp.,.
13. Emory Flanagan is buying property in Atchison Co., MO in 1893.
14. A copy of the E.G. Flanagan Bible page giving the births of all the children., Thank goodness, I remembered that when my Brother, Maurice was killed in the WWII, Mother had to prove that she had been born and Atchison Co., MO does not have birth records back then. She wrote to her sister, Bess Albright, now in CA, Whittier, because Bess had kept the Bible page that the old folks, had just torn out of the big Bible in OK, when they decided to 'Go West' to CA.

16. Historoy of Early Capitol Hill, OK, pg 33, A Diagram of the location of the stores and homes in Early Capitol Hill. Emory's grocery store was located on Robinson Ave and E Ave. (27th). Then it appears that his home was located on D Ave. (26) and Robinson Ave.
17. Eastern Star affliation in Pleiades Chapter #620 in El Paso, TX., From the records that the Grand Chapter sent to me in Feb of 1971, when I wrote for her record, Nora Hill was initiated 19 Feb 1924. She was suspended 16 June 1933 which must of been around the time that they sold the El Paso Tent and Awning Co., to Daddy's partner, Jack Jagoe, and we went off to Cuero, TX right in the beginning of the Great Depression. I went to school, 1st & maybe 2nd grade, in Cuero, I believe.
18. Copy of announcement of the marriage of W.K.Hill and Nora Blanche Flanagan, The account says they were married on a Sat. evening at the Bride's sister's home in Kansas City, MO, Arrived in OK, to the bride's parents home on Sunday, to the great surprise of everyone. They left on the noon train, Monday, for Mexico City, Mex.
19. Marshal of Capitol Hill, OK in Sep 1905..
20. Oklahoma County, OK County Court House Records, From one of these records we can figure just about when Emory G. Flanagan and family left OK and went to CA. The date of this record is 6 of May 1919 where Emory sells his Lots 5,6,7,8 in Bl 23 in Capitol Hill, OK to Frank Wooley, Jr. These were good friends of George Flanagan, Emory's brother in OK.
21. Emory G. Flanagan was interred at Rose Hills Memorial Park, Whittier,CA 6 Aug 1930.

Dear Vivian,

Thanks so much for your newsy note/letter. About Art, yes, he had told me he was having problems remembering and we discussed Alzheimer's. Gary, of course, was pumping him full of that food additive he was selling -- apparently it did not help. I am surprised that Gary did not let me know since he had kept up a pretty steady trail of emails. He did not look well the last time they came through here, so he could have gone first. Strange.

The surprising news about Margie is disappointing and scary. I had no idea that the Department had such problem makers. You, of course, are better away from it. Taking her computer suggests that someone was aware of what she had looked at on the Internet, or collected, or someone else put stuff on her machine to trap her. Aw-ful.

Rather than find a house to buy, I wish you two would look for an assisted living place. Think about it, our taxes have paid for the opportunity, you know. If your capital is invested and not in your checking account and your income from SS & pensions do not exceed a certain annual amount (around $32,000) you may be eligible to be there. Granted what's available our there may only be a two bedroom apartment, living room, kitchen and bath, but careful pruning of your goods and chattels you can be comfortable. I took half the money from the sale of my house and gave it to daughter Crow. (not big money, but more than six times the original cost). The other half I invested in ten year bonds and use the revenue from that for special to do stuff. Moving was a shock, but as I met folks here and in town, the doldrums left.. I brpight lots of bookcases , books, and more kitch thabn necessary, but when friends form Houston stop by they say it looks just like the Houston place. Three of the bookcases I put up as a wall between the Living Room and the KitchenL: one facing the K , the others the LR. I added amptjer tall bookcase makit perpendicular to the wall, providing another open shelving for a dishes deal I bought from JCPenney. Having the floor plan in advance helped. The only change I made in the LR was where I put the 6 ft table top (a 1909 vintage) on the wall with the cable connections, and the 90" couch on the other wall. I brought antique side boards, using two in the LR and one as a sort of armoir in the BR. The computer rable top sits on two 2-drawer file cabinets and a 2-shelf wooden bookcase. In the BR on top of the 2-door armoir are two narrow bookcases, sitting lenthwise providing storage like The Gap for sweaters, hats, belts, and the like. I also have a 4-drawer filing cabinet that holds most of my research family stuff, and a 2-drawer cabinet for other research material. Another low filing cabinet has l letter size drawer and two not so deep drawers, which works well for me to hold a small tv- radio (for the radio part) my cassette player, and work as a bedside cabinet. Most of the books I brought have been given to the local library or the collections to the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville. All my father's architectural books were given to the UofAF School of Architecture along with four 250+- year old Piranesi etchings. They were given in the names of all my father's living grandchildren, to try to make them realize the stewardship possible rather than selling them.

This is long and rambly, but wanted to share some of it with you. Outside we have about two inches of snow with more due tomorrow and the weekend. These apartments are so warm and cozy, so as long as we don't lose power (all electric) as we did with the ice storm earlier in the month (the storm we sent on to Texas). Crow and Arthur had power throughout the storm, so he came and rescued me in his Toyota land cruiser. I had thought I'd be sleeping in the alcove in Crow's Studio they made for me, but we had lots of tree branches crashing down so I stayed in the house in the room that will become their library. They had the studio completely rebuilt added a small bathroom, a very efficient heat pump, that I feel it's my home away from home. They also added a wing to the house for his mother, knowing that she and I may eventually need to relocate.

My health is pretty good. I don't get out and walk as much as I should/could.
Last year I had a four month siege of dizziness, worried that it was a condition I'd have to live with for ever. Was referred to one doctor (ENT) who determined it was benign positional vertigo -- a condition where the small crystals in the inner ear travel into the wrong canals and can be corrected by the MD through turning the head this way and that. It comes and goes, and in October I fell flat on my face. Why my nose wasn't broken, I don't know) but my right cheek was split and my dark glasses broken, but the other glasses just bent out of shape (as was I.). I love the affect had on one of my friends in Kiwanis -- he said "Got a new boyfriend, huh?" I responded with "I wish."

I'm looking at the weather news on TV right now. Colorado is having an ugly time with back to back snow storms, loss of cattle, etc. Scary.

I may try to find Gary through that funky company he sold for. I'll let you know.

May you have no trouble wading through this epistle.
Love and best wishes.

Hans Michael Wampler ( Wampfler )

My ancestor, Hans Michael Wampler was born in Hinsingen, Alsace in 1724. He was christened on 19 November 1724 in Keskastel, Alsace. Alsace is the region, currently in France, along the Rhine River on the German border. This region has been contested many times over history. In 1648 it was part of the Holy Roman Empire, and it was given to France in 1697 by the Treaty of Ryswick and was annexed by Germany in 1871. It belongs to the winner of the latest war between France and Germany, and many of the towns have German names. The Wampfler family moved to Alsace from Diemtigen Switzerland sometime between 1654 and 1695. The earliest ancestor we can trace is Heinrich Wampfler whose son Hans was born in Zwischenfluh, Switzerland in 1616.

Michael came to America with his father, Hans Peter Wampfler ( born 1701 in Sparsbach, Alsace, and died in 1749, Lancaster Co. Pa. ), mother , Anna Veronica Lung Wampfler, and brothers and sisters in 1741 on the Lydia from Rotterdam to Philadelphia, Pa. They arrived on 29 September 1741. The family settled in Lancaster Co. Pa. They were members of The Hill Lutheran Church in what is now Cleona, Lebanon Co. Pa. The father, Hans Peter Wampler Sr. was a linen weaver in Alsace and in Pa. He purchased 200 acres of land in Lebanon Township, Lancaster Co. Hans Peter Wampfler Sr. died in 1749, and I have a copy of the inventory of his property taken to settle his estate - valued at 184 pounds sterling. It shows he had a loom, but also he farmed his property. Source: Lancaster Co. Historical Society records.

Michael Wampler paid a tax of 4 pounds in Lebanon Township of Lancaster Co. in 1751, so he was a property owner. The family had dropped the " f" from Wampfler by then. Michael married Anna Elizabeth ? ( last name unknown ) in about 1750 and had a large family, eight children. In 1761 he purchased 158 acres of land in Lebanon Township. In 1765 he and his wife were sponsors or God parents of a child born to Peter and Margaret Kober at The Hill Church. Source: LCHS records.

His older brother, Hans Peter Jr. also had a large family. Four of Peter's children were taken in an Indian raid in the summer of 1757 during the Seven Years War, probably by the Delaware and Shawnee of that area. (Source: History of Lebanon and Dauphin Counties, Pa. ) Two Wampler women, Catherine and Christina, were listed in the captives returned to Col. Henry Bouquet's men at Fort Pitt in 1764 at the end of the War. (Source: Correspondence of Sir William Johnson, records of Superintendents Office RG10NAC, 1756C. 1222. Pages 313,314.) Peter moved his family to Frederick Co. Md. in 1770.

In 1771 Michael was living on the frontier in Fincastle Co. Va. which at that time included all of Virginia west of the Blue Ridge Mountains including what are now Kentucky and Tennessee. He is listed on William Crockett's list of tithables, all men over 16 and under 60, in 1771. In 1774 he purchased 270 acres of land, adjoining land he already owned, on the South Fork of Reeds Creek near what is now Rural Retreat, Wythe Co. Va. In total he owned several hundred acres, and there are records of his land transactions up through the mid 1780's. Michael's son, George operated a mill on the Wampler land. In 1783, Michael's brother George moved his family from Pennsylvania to land adjoining Michaels. Sources: 1. Wamplers in America, G. M. Schouse, 1981, Gateway Press, Baltimore Md. and 2. Early Adventurers on the Western Waters Vols. I, II and III, Mary B.Kegicy, F. B. Kegley, and Mary B. Kegley, 1980. Kegley Books, Wytheville Va.

Michael and his son, George, were members of Robert Doack's (or Doak's ) Militia in Lord Dunmore's War in 1774. Michael would have been 50 years old and George only 17. Robert Doack was also from Fincastle Co.- near the Cumberland Gap. Doack died in the summer of 1774 and his troops joined either Capt. Smith's Company, Capt. Crockett or Capt. Wm. Campbell. They served in Col. William Preston's Regiment, but when Preston was delayed by family business, they joined Col. William Christian's Command. Col. Christian lead his troops to Point Pleasant on the Ohio at the mouth of the Kanawha River to join Col. Lewis, but they arrived about midnight after the Indians had withdrawn. This was the Battle of Point Pleasant, 9 October 1774. Some believe the Indians withdrew because they knew Col. Christian's troops were coming. (Source: Documentary History of Dunmore's War 1774. Thwaits and Kellogg from Dr. Lyman Draper Papers.)

Michael ended his days in Wythe Co. Va. near Rural Retreat. He founded St. Paul's Lutheran Church there on his own land. He died in 1789 at the age of 65 and is most probably buried at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Michael's life in America spans 1741 to 1789, from before the French and Indian War through the Revolution.

COLLECTION OF MEMORIALS CONCERNING DIVERS DECEASED MINISTERS AND OTHERS OF THE PEOPLE CALLED QUAKERS, IN PENNSYLVANIA, NEW JERSEY AND PARTS ADJACENT FROM NEARLY THE FIRST SETTLEMENT THEREOF TO THE YEAR 1787.

Pub. Phil. 1787

A testimony from the Yearly-Meeting in Virginia, concerning Robert Jordan. He was son of Thomas and Margaret Jordan of Nansemond County in Virginia, born the 11th of the seventh month 1668, and carefully educated in the way of truth by his worthy parents, who lived to see the religion of his education become that of his choice and practice in his mature years, in which he was preserved to the last without wavering, in great peace with the Lord and unity of his brethren. He was an hospitable man, very ready to entertain strangers, especially the Lords Messengers, whom he treated with great respect and affection, honouring them for their works sake; being also charitable to the poor, and as a man of trade and commerce, obtained a good reputation, having declared he had never wronged any man knowingly in all his life. In the time of his illness, which continued about two weeks, he seemed very patient and resigned to the will of God, and much concerned for the everlasting welfare of his children, which he expressed in a lively manner; and often in fervent prayer, desired they might be preserved from the vanities and corruptions of this world, and that they might love and fear the Lord in their youth, saying at one time, "Lord preserve my flock, let them never go astray, nor forget thee, nor one another". "O my God! hold them in thy arms that none of them be lost, let not the enemy prevail over them." Being humbly thankful and blessed God, that he had been pleased to support him through every dispensation of his providence to that time. He died the 3d of the eight month 1728, and on the 9th of the same month, after a large meeting held on the occassion was interred in the family burying ground.

A testamony from the Yearly-Meeting of Friends in Virginia, concerning Benjamin Jordan. He was born the 18th of the seventh month 1674, in Nansemond County in Virginia, of believing parents, who were careful to educate their children in the blessed truth for which they suffered whose examples together with the influence of grace, were sanctified unto this one friend as well as several others of their numerous offspring. He was a man who gave up much of his time in waiting upon God and services for the church being clerk both to the Monthly and Yearly Meeting; was a good example of piety and charity and kept his integrety to the last. The day before he died, several neighbors coming in to see him, one of them being in a flourishing state as to the world, to whom the way of truth seemed too low and despicable, he said 'Rejoice O Young man, in thy youth, and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thy heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: But know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into Judgment." He looked upon another who seemed to be under some convincement of truth, but did not live in obedience, and said "Blessed are they that hear the word of God and do it." and to another that appeared to have sought after the honour of this world more than the Lord's honour, he said, "He looked too big to enter in at the strait gate." He gave particular directions concerning the place and manner of his burial, desiring that no more provision might be made than was sufficient having, whilst in health bourn a testimony against making such a time, a time of feasting instead of mourning. One of his brothers asking him how it was with him, he replied, "as to my eternal state, nothing but well." Soon after, holding up his hands and looking upwards, he said "Lord Jesus into thy hands I commit my spirit, Lord keep me at this time". And so departed in quietness, the 12th of the twelfth month 1716, aged about forty-two years.

A testimony from the Yearly-Meeting of Friends in Virginia concerning Joseph Jordan. He was born in Nansemond county in Virginia in the year 1695, being the third son of Robert Jordan, as well as one of the third generation who have walked in the truth. He was of a sprightly genius affable disposition, and even temper, which as he grew to manhood, gave him easy access to company, estemed the better sort. A visitation of devine love being extended to him about the twenty second year of his age, he like Zaccheus, made haste and with Joy embraced both the message and the messenger of salvation: And being endued with a gift in the ministry, acquitted himself "as a workman that need not be ashamed", and had a great place in the minds of men. Altho' he had not much school literature, yet he might be said to have had the tongue of the learned, being both correct and consice in speaking the word in season, in somuch that divers have confessed to the truth and embraced the doctrin he preached. Being patient in tribulation, he was favoured with that hope which affords content and solace of minds. After labouring in the gospel in his own county and the adjacent provinces, he visited most parts of England, Ireland, and divers parts of Holland; being absent on this service above three years, returned with peace, and found his presence necessary at home; for his father being deceased, and his brother Robert then absent, the care of the family devolved upon him, which trust he discharged with judgment, being a good acconomist, kind neighbor, and steady friend. He often intimated that he should not continue long, and was therefore concerned to use diligence. Not long before his decease, he visited friends in Virginia and North Carolina, edifying them with his gift and in the beginning of the month in which he died (tho. very weak in body) attended their Quarterly Meeting, signifying at his return his great satisfaction therein, believing it would be the last meeting of the kind he should ever be at, and accordingly he never afterwards went from home, except to a week day meeting in the neighborhood. On the morning of the day of his disolution, he uttered many savoury expressions, saying to some young ministers," Mind your gifts, and the Lord will bless you, and you will be a blessing to the church. Be humble and obedient, obedience brings sweet peace. I have a great desire there might be a right ministry continued in this the church for there are many not strictly of this fold, who in due time the Lord will bring in: and as you come to have an experience of the works of truth in your own hearts you will be able to confute them who persuade themselves there is no living without sin in this world. I am not in a condition to speak much, neither is it, I hope, very needful; as you are thus taught of the Lord, you will have cause to rejoice in him on whom you have believed." Thus having happily compleated his day's work, he laid down his head in much resignation and peace with the Lord, the 26th of the ninth month 1735, aged forty years, a minister about 17.

A testimony from the Monthly-Meeting of Philadelphia concerning Robert Jordan. It appears, he was born in the county of Nansemond in Virginia, the 27th of the tenth month 1693, of parents in good esteem among friends, and that about the year 1718 he received a gift in the ministry as did his brother Joseph about the same time; and to their first appearance in that weighty work the labours of Lydia Lancaster and her companion then on a religious visit from Great Britain were under divine help made instrumental. Of his first travels in the service of truth the following is an abstract from an account committed to writing by himself. "I early found a concern on my mind to visit friends in Maryland, which I did on both sides of the bay (Chesapeak) in fear and trembling being young and weak, and the work very exercising by reason of an obvious declension, which accasioned me much exercise in speaking and writing against the spirit of Liberty, superfluity and conformity to the world, for visit to Barbados, and in the succeeding year, accompaned by Caleb Roper, he accomplished his last visit Eastward as far as Boston. Hereby we may observe his unwearied application and exercise, to fulfill the ministry which he had received of the Lord. He was a member of this Meeting above ten years and tho' his time was much employed in his religious duties abroad, he did not omit the adjacent meetings, being industrious and laborous for the general welfare and prosperity of the churches; for the promotion whereof he was through the divine anointing emminently qualified. His ministry being convincing and consolatory, his delivery graceful but unaffected; in prayer he was solemn and reverent; he delighted in meditation, recommending by example, religious retirement in his familiar visits among his friends; in his sentments he was generous and charitable, yet a firm opposer of obstinate liberties in principal or practice, demonstrating his love to the cause of Religion and rightousness above all other considerations, being careful to adorn the doctrine of the gospel, by a life of piety and benevolence, and we have ground to hope and believe he was prepared for the sudden summons from his pilgrimage here, which was on the fifth day of the eighth month O. S. 1742, when being at the house of one of his most intimate friends on the third day of the week in the morning waiting for the hour of Meeting, he was seized with a fit of the aproplexy, which very soon deprived him of speech, and he died about midnight following, in the forty ninth year of his age, being a minister about 24 years; his burial on the 7th of the same month was attended by a great number of his fellow-citizens, to one meeting-house in High street, and thence to the grave-yard.

*My dear friends,

This is a subtill spirit that Under Pretence of Leading out of all formallities Into a greater show of Holyness hath crept in amongst Us, and hath Laboured by its instruments to Gett a position in ye hearts of many honest hearts who were travelling in ye way of truth & wrighteousness in ye Innocency of their hearts. The work of this Subtill Spirit is to Leade from ye Cross of Christ ye which is ye power of God Unto Salvation And to disunite & deride ye flock of God and to leade them back againe into those things that Gods Ever Lasting truth hath Lead them out of. Their testimony hath bin against all forms & desires ye true form of Godlyness being covered in prayers to allmighty god calling it their Liberty & freedom And opposing friends, mens & womens meetings Sett up by ye Servants of ye Lord now in this our day as it was in ye Primitive times—ah my friends this Spirit I once gave Entertainment to and for some time harbored in my bosom and with it did oppose those ye servants of ye Lord whose Eye was Cept open to ye Lord & did Espie it and testified against it that its worke would be to make desolate those yt were Led by it and this I can witness to be truly wofull Experience for my Light became darkness & A vaill came over ye Living sence of truth in me Untill my feete had allmost quite Spit out of the way of truth & Righteousness.——But for ever blessed & praysed be ye Name of ye Everlasting God of truth and Righteousness who out of his mercy tender pity & Loving kindness to me did open my Eye and Unvaill my understanding againe and gave me to see ye dry & barren places that this Subtill Spirit was Leading me to where there is no freight (fruit?) brought forth Unto God nor pasture to feed in but was as a sheep goon astray wth out a Shepperd or as a bird cott in a snaire. Oh My dear friends give no Entertainment to this Spirit in yor one bosoms nor bid it God speed for I do believe yt it hath don more hurte in this Land then outward persecution could doe, wharefore my friend I bitterly condemn it and one of my condemnation for Entertaining of it, and I pray God yt he will hence forth keepe me & preserve me in his forever blessed truth Unto ye Ende of my dayes is the desire of my Soule. ## Barnesville of Pike County until 1920

Gideon Barnes, John Milner and Josiah Holmes were the three pioneer settlers of Barnesville. A historical look at Barnesville would not be complete without mentioning a biological sketch of Josiah Holmes. He was the foundation in forming the Methodist Church of Barnesville. According to The History of Lamar County, he donated "the lot on which the Methodist Church and the Carnegie Library are located; the original four acres of the Greenwood Cemetery." He built the first school house in this area with his own funds.

Josiah Holmes was born in 1788 in North Carolina. He migrated in early life to Twiggs County where he married Amelia Williams on ch 26, 1815. He died Jan. 8, 1865 at the of 77. Amelia Williams Holmes was born in 1796 in North Carolina and died March 22, 1872. Together they are buried in Greenwood Cemetery. Josiah Holmes is the son of Capt. John Holmes and Chloe Holmes. Amelia is the daughter of Capt. John Williams and Sarah Lane Williams. Her father also fought in the Revolution.

County Courthouse is now. After the death of Josiah Holmes, the house was sold to Alvis Stafford. The History of Lamar County tells that the house had eleven rooms for his large family.

He and his wife Amelia had 17 children with only 11 living to adulthood:

John D. Holmes was born Oct. 20, 1817 in Twiggs County. He died June 9, 1907. He married Dec. 3, 1837 to Matilda Harden. She is the daughter of John Harden and Elizabeth Spivey Harden. She was born Jan. 13, 1824 and died Sept. 16, 1921. Together they are buried in Greenwood Cemetery. FOW

James G. Holmes was married to Harriett Caroline Shehee. She died Jan. 1, 1850. She is the daughter of Sherrod Shehee, another pioneer settler of Pike County. FOW

Sarah J. Holmes was born April of 1822 and died June 10, 1866. She married Wade H. Holley. He died April 13, 1855 in his 46th year. They are buried in Greenwood Cemetery. FOW

W. Capers Holmes was born April 24, 1824 and died March 17, 1900. He married Martha J. Jordan. She died Sept. 20, 1870. They are buried in Greenwood Cemetery. FOW

Shadrach Holmes, CSA was killed in the Battle of Fredericksburg in the War Between the States. FOW

Caroline W. Holmes was born July 16, 1828 and died Nov. 8, 1874. She married John Wesley Elder. He was born June 2, 1824 and died July 8, 1872. They are buried in Greenwood Cemetery. Caroline Holmes Elder's great-great grandson, Hon. Byron Smith, is Judge of the Superior Court in the Flint Judicial Circuit. FOW

my next ancestors

Frances Ann Holmes married Dr. John Caldwell Blackburn. He was a druggist in Barnesville. FOW

Eppie Holmes married J.R. Nutting.✓

Marina Holmes married G.M. Rockwell.✓

Evaline Holmes.✓

John D. Holmes, the eldest son of Josiah Holmes, had several children:

Isabella Holmes was born Sept. 10, 1839 and died Jan. 5, 1908. She married Rev. John Wesley Reynolds. He was born Feb. 10, 1828 and died Dec. 27, 1869.

William Penn Holmes was born Sept. 19, 1841 and died April 11, 1920. He married Mary Blair Mitchell. She was born in 1842 and died in 1926. She is the daughter of Samuel Mitchell of Zebulon. They are from whom the Holmes Family of Zebulon is descended.

Josiah F. Holmes was born February of 1843; married Annie Floyd.

Wade Hampton was born Aug. 8, 1845 and died Dec. 14, 1912. He married first Oct. 23, 1867 to Susan Frances Evans. He married second on Dec. 16, 1891 to Joanna Andrews Jackson.

Georgia F. Holmes was born Nov. 27, 1847 and died June 11, 1875.

Virginia Holmes was born Nov. 27, 1847 and died Jan. 22, 1944. They were twins.

Elizabeth M. Holmes was born in 1850. She died as an infant.

Like the three pioneers, the families that followed established generations of people that put Barnesville and surrounding communities on the map.

Dear Mrs. Jordan,

I have enclosed Holmes information as promised. I also enclosed a page on Josiah Holmes, my ancestor, and brother to James C. Holmes. The DAR article is from the Georgia Archives as is the article by Mrs. Cooper. The Cooper's apparently did quite a bit of research, but sounds like there are still some unanswered questions.

I get to the Archives occasionally and I am still researching the Holmes and all my lines. I will be glad to pass on any further Holmes information I come across to you in the future.

Thanks for responding to my Pike Co. query and I look forward to further correspondence with you.

Sincerely,

Lionel

JOHN HOLMES (1747-1803)

The purpose of this paper on John Holmes, who married Chloe Bentley, was father of Apsilla Holmes (1770-1854) who married Pitt Milner (1769-1839), is two-fold: to disprove a widely circulated myth about John Holmes; and to summarize both the facts actually known about him, and those bits of information which may be true but need research.

First of all, there is no family tradition about where or when John Holmes was born. Some descendants believe him to have been born in 1747, in Caroline County, Virginia, and married in 1767. There is, however, a consistent family tradition that he married Chloe Bentley. It is believed she was the daughter of William Bentley (a lieutenant and then captain in the Revolution, serving in Virginia) and of Mary Elliott, his wife. The problem is that the Holmes Bibles have long since been lost to view for most of us, and other documentary evidence is not yet found and perhaps nonexistent.

The will of John Holmes, in summary, is given here as it is our only incontrovertible and accessible source of family data. I quote here from Grace G. Davidson's The Early Records of Georgia: Wilkes County (Two volumes, Macon, 1932; reprinted Vidalia, Georgia, 1968, by Silas E. Lucas, Jr.), Volume 1, page 75. The will is in Wilkes County Will Book 1806-1808, page 61, but note that the book contains earlier wills. The Georgia Department of Archives has a copy on microfilm.

> HOLMES, JOHN. To wife Cloe whole estate for life. To dau. Apsilla Milner, beds, cows, etc. To dau. Penelope Milner, horse, bed, etc., which she has already received. To dau Mary Parks, ditto, already received. Land to be divided among his four sons, Josiah, John, and James, called eldest (sons). To Moses a slave Isaac also. To dau. Elizabeth and son Moses a horse each at majority. Wife Chloe, Geo. Willis, Sr., Jere. Reeves and my three oldest sons, Josiah, John and James, Excrs. Signed Sept. 4, 1802. Probated Mar. 8, 1803. Jeremiah Reeves, Malachi Reeves, Test.

Comments: 1) The date of John Holmes' death is sometimes, incorrectly, given as 1806. He died shortly before the will was probated, hence in early 1803. 2) The Geo. Willis, Sr. mentioned was the father of Elizabeth Dabney Willis, who married John Holmes Milner, son of Pitt and Apsilla. 3) Mary Parks was widowed and married second Elisha Kendall.

I. The Myth

The myth about our John Holmes, which we find in various D. A. R. applications and publications from the 1890's on, has it that he was a Justice of the Peace in St. George's Parish (Burke County) in 1774; that he was rector of a church in the same parish; that he was chaplain of General McIntosh's brigade or in the 1st Georgia Regiment, enlisting in 1776; that he was among the men in Georgia proscribed by the Crown from holding public office; that he was a founder and the chaplain of the Georgia Society of the Cincinnati. Some of these misconceptions were repeated in Ettie T. McCall's Roster of Revolutionary Soldiers in Georgia, published by the Georgia Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution in 1941, and in the recent history of Wilkes County, We Have This Heritage, by Robert M. Willingham. Some accounts also have him a schoolmaster in Savannah, and two D. A. R. applicants have him a captive on the prison ship "Pack Horse."

Research leads me to conclude that the events described above do not belong to the life of our John Holmes. The reason for the error is very simple. A John Holmes was indeed rector of a church in St. George's Parish, a J. P. there, was proscribed from public office by the Crown (1780), was Chaplain of the Eighth or Rifle Company of Col. McIntosh's brigade (raised in 1776), was an original member and chaplain of the Georgia Society of the Cincinnati. But he was not our John Holmes, who married Chloe Bentley, died in Wilkes County in 1803, and left children.

How did the legend ever get started? George White's Historical Collections of Georgia was published in 1854, and gives all the information in the preceding paragraph. The ladies joining the D. A. R. knew their John Holmes had served in the Revolution and assumed that White's John Holmes was their ancestor and so added data from White to their rather sparse information on Holmes from family sources. That this assumption is incorrect appears as we examine the data.

The first thing to realize is that John Holmes was not such an uncommon name. Since some of the information alleged that our John Holmes lived at one time in Savannah, I read, on microfilm, all the appropriate references shown in the index in the Savannah newspaper, The Georgia Gazette, from 1763 to 1799. I checked the references to Holmes, J. Holmes, John Holmes, Capt. John Holmes (the index here was in error; this man was Captain Joseph Holmes, a ship's captain), Rev. John Holmes, Rev. Holmes, and Mrs. Holmes. There were several John Holmes, none of whom appeared to overlap; one was John Holmes, Esq., a lawyer; one kept school; one was the Rev. John Holmes, of whom more later; one was a runaway sailor from New England; one had lived in St. Augustine but died in Savannah in 1785. Then there is John Holmes of Charleston who advertised for a runaway slave (may be the same man as John Bee Holmes of Charleston); the Rev. Abiel Holmes of the Sunbury Colony in Liberty County, from whom the two Oliver Wendell Holmes, father and son, descended; and many others.

Some have attempted to place our John Holmes in Charleston but the evidence for this is slim. The schoolmaster in Savannah, who advertised in the paper, is probably the origin of the idea that our man taught school there, which, considering what is known about the rest of his life, is unlikely. However, most of the confusion comes from the fact that events relating to the life of the Rev. John Holmes, mentioned above, who, as we shall see, is the one mentioned in White's Historical Collections of Georgia, have been appropriated for our John Holmes.

The Rev. John Holmes, however, died in 1784, apparently unmarried.

I think it worthwhile to give what is known about this Rev. Holmes. The Georgia Gazette for April 1, 1784, page 2, carries this notice: "Died, on Tuesday last, the Rev. John Holmes, who for some time past officiated as Rector of Christ Church. His remains were interred yesterday evening, attended by the Most Ancient and Honorable Masons, and a great number of Respectable Citizens."

The Georgia Gazette for April 8, 1784, page 1, carries a long proposed epitaph:

"The following epitaph is designed for the Tomb Stone of the Rev. John Holmes, deceased:

THIS STONE
Is sacred to the memory
OF THE REVEREND JOHN HOLMES,
Late Rector of Christ Church Parish
AND CHAPLAIN
Of the State Society of the Cincinnati.

OF
Wisdom without Pedantry;
OF GENUINE WIT
With Unbounded Philanthropy
AND

Note that there is no mention of grieving wife nor bereaved children. (Both newspaper quotations may be found in the University of Georgia Libraries, Microfilm Collection, Georgia Gazette Jan. 30, 1784-Oct. 16, 1788, FILM AN 13 S45 G42 r.l.)

I think that the above proposed epitaph adequately disposes of the notion that our John Holmes was ever rector of Christ Church or chaplain of the Society of the Cincinnati--unless one assumes that the Society had two chaplains, both miraculously named John Holmes. The Rev. John Holmes was indeed held captive, but I don't know where our ladies got the idea about our man being on the prison ship "Pack Horse"!

One might think that our John Holmes could have been the one who was chaplain of the Eighth Company of Col. Lachlan McIntosh's brigade, and/or a J. P. in St. George's Parish and/or rector of a church there, and/or on the list of men forbidden to hold public office put out by the British government in 1780. As for the last item, I think it obvious that when one compares the lives of the two John Holmes, that the only one prominent enough to be proscribed was the Rev. John Holmes of Christ Church Parish who died in 1784. In fact, our man was probably not in Georgia till 1784, after the close of the Revolution.

Furthermore, I have found material on the life of a Rev. John Holmes who was a missionary to St. George's Parish which strongly suggests that he was the same minister as the one who died in 1784. Following a footnote in Kenneth Coleman's Colonial Georgia, I found Religion and the State of Georgia in the Eighteenth Century by Reba Strickland (New York, Columbia University Press, 1939), which is in Special Collections, University of Georgia Libraries. In it, we learn that the Justices of the Peace were often clergymen (pages 122-123); and that the Rev. John Holmes of St. George's Parish and the Rev. William Percy were the only Anglican ministers known to have supported the rebel cause (page 149). Following her citation of a letter from Holmes (pages 113-114) to the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, I found the Society's papers on microfilm at the University of Georgia library, and read the two letters from Holmes they contain. Holmes had been sent to Georgia by the Society, the headquarters of which were in London, arriving in Savannah on December 5, 1773. His two letters, of 1774 and 1775, detail his labours in the wilderness of present Burke County, a great parish inhabited by only 400 families, half of them Presbyterian, where what little knowledge the settlers had they had "acquired from a parcel of illiterate Anabaptist preachers" and where murders by Indians had lately occurred. (The call number of this microfilm is: FILM BV 2500 A6A1 ser. C r.16.)

There is never any mention of wife nor children. And of course, we have never thought that our John Holmes arrived in this country in 1773. In fact, his oldest child Apsilla was born in 1770 in North Carolina.

I think that there can be no doubt that the intrepid bachelor missionary sent to Saint George's Parish by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel was the rector in that parish, mentioned in White's Historical Collections; that he was also a J. P. there. There is little doubt it was he who was chaplain of the Eighth or Rifle Company of Col. Lachlan McIntosh's brigade, raised in 1776; and very probable that he was the Rev. John Holmes later rector of Christ Church, Savannah, imprisoned during the Revolution by the British, and chaplain of the Georgia Society of the Cincinnati until his death in 1784.

Another consideration is that in the only period of his life for which we have much information, that from 1784 until his death in 1803 during which he was a settler in Wilkes County, Georgia, our John Holmes emerges as a farmer who had, it seems, fought in the Revolution. Probably a robust character and certainly hard-working, as any successful settler had to be. He does no school-teaching, no preaching. Nothing indicates his being a learned man nor one-time minister. He does not appear to have joined any church. (His wife Chloe and son John joined the Sardis Baptist Church in Wilkes County, but there is no mention of the older John in the church minutes. Incidentally, Sardis is the church to which John and Elizabeth Milner, Pitt and Apsilla Milner, and George and Susannah Willis belonged.)

II. Other Information and Avenues for Exploration

In the absence of family Bibles, the earliest documentary evidence we have for our John Holmes dates from 1784 and is from Georgia. In 1784 he takes up a total of 662 acres in Wilkes County, in four grants (two bordering John Milner's land.) How do we know that it is our John Holmes? Not only because we know from his will that he lived in Wilkes County, but because when he sells some of the land, his wife Chloe's name appears on the deed also. See, for example, Davidson's Early Records of Georgia, Volume 1, page 274. The originals of these grants are at the Surveyor-General's Office in the Georgia Archives building, Atlanta, Georgia 30334, and they are, of course, recorded in Wilkes County deed books. Davidson's book is well indexed and you will find numberous references to John Holmes therein; her summary of his will has already been cited.

John Holmes' land grants in Wilkes County, on file at the Surveyor-General's Office do not specify that they are bounty grants, hence they could have been granted under the headright system,which did not require prior military service. However, a John Holmes received 287½ acres in Washington County, Georgia, on a grant signed on June 5, 1784, for which the warrant number was 2458 (L. L. Knight, Georgia's Roster of the Revolution, Atlanta, 1920, page 201). The number of acres (250 with no taxes or 287½ with taxes) was the standard number given to ex-soldiers. I believe this John Holmes to be our man. Many men who settled in Wilkes County had received grants elsewhere, particularly in Washington County, which, like Franklin County, was created in 1784 expressly to provide a framework for grants (headright and bounty) for the settlers pouring into Georgia.

It is uncertain what John Holmes' rank was, though he is sometimes listed as Captain. Captains of militia districts were commonly called Captain, which may be the origin of John Holmes' title. Davidson (Volume 1, page 129) cites Inferior Court minutes of 1795 appointing "Captain John Holmes and Pitman Milner"(doubtless our Pitt Milner) road surveyors.

Research is needed on John Holmes' birthplace, perhaps indeed Caroline County, Virginia, and on his parentage.

The Bentley line is almost as little known.

John Holmes' son James was born in a fort, according to tradition found in some branches of the family, but whether John Holmes commanded a fort during the Revolution, as some D. A. R. applications state, is not supported by any evidence. James was born in Wilkes County after the war, on April 24, 1785, according to his descendants. There were during the war five different forts in Wilkes County--Fort Heard (later the town of Washington); Heard's Fort, also sometimes called Fort Heard, which was on Fishing Creek; Clarke's Fort; Freeman's Fort; and Fort James (see Robert M. Willingham, We Have This Heritage, Washington, Georgia, Wilkes Publishing Co., 1969). If James was born in any one of these buildings earlier used as forts, he would have nevertheless been "born in a fort". I wonder whether he was born in Heard's Fort on Fishing Creek, since one of Holmes's grants was on that creek and he may have lived there for a while. This creek is in the eastern part of the county.

Incidentally, Holmes's other grants were in the western part of the county, and it has been thought that he lived in the western part.

Apsilla Holmes Milner is said in the 1850 census of Henry County, Georgia, to have been born in 1770 in North Carolina. (Apsilla was then a widow and living with her daughter, Penelope Milner Eason.) We know from land titles and

James Holmes' birth data that the family was in Georgia in 1784-1785. Yet a younger son, Josiah, is thought by his descendants to have also been born in North Carolina in 1788. The family may have returned to North Carolina to settle an estate or sell land. We do not know enough about John Holmes' North Carolina years.

If John Holmes was born in Virginia, was in North Carolina in 1770, and did not reach Georgia until 1784, he obviously could have spent the years of the Revolution in North Carolina. The North Carolina Department of Archives and History, Raleigh, North Carolina, has among its Treasurer and Comptroller Papers three Revolutionary Pay Vouchers made out to John Holmes (dating from 1779 to 1782, from Halifax District and Duplin County), but we cannot be sure at present these are for our John.

In State Records of North Carolina, edited by Walter Clark (Goldsboro, North Carolina, Nash Bros., 1899), Volume XVI, the Roster of the Continental Line is given. On page 1083 are listed Josiah Holmes and John Holmes, both enlisting as privates for 12 months beginning 18 December 1781. This is for the Continental Line, not militia nor home guard. Perhaps these are our John Holmes and a brother, since the name Josiah reappears among John's children.

I think it probable that John Holmes' military service took place in North Carolina. I wish we knew more about who he really was and what he really did. Maybe by digging into records and asking the right questions we can find out at least something more than we now know.

Children and following family -typescript-history from NSDAR No21447

"John Holmes,"Gentleman", came to Georgia an Episcopal missionary in 1760, and received grant in St. Andrews Parish,Georgia.

In 1760 he was licensed to teach English and Latin in Savannah by Sir James Wright, Governor.

In 1768 he removed to Florida, as so many did at that time, hoping to escape the depredations of the Indians, but soon returned.

In 1774 he was Justice of the Peace of St George Parish, and in 1776, Rector of St. George Church, eight miles from Waynesboro. Enlisted as Chaplain, First Georgia Regiment, Feb. 16, 1776 and served through the war. This was the regiment of Col. Lochlan McIntosh. He was one of the founders of the Georgia Society of Cincinnati, joining W&W his father-in-law, Capt. Bentley and his kinsman, John Carraway Smith.

He married Chloe Bentley, perhaps about 1770. Removed to Wilkes County, Georgia in 1784, at the same time that John Milner did and died there in 1801, leaving four sons and four daughrers."

from NSDAR No. 1025

"Mrs Captain John Holmes being alone in the house with two little girls, Apsylla and Penelope, and seeing the Indians approach, she fled into the wilderness and watched her house destroyed by fire. She finally succeeded in reaching the fort where her father, Capt. -William ?-Bentley was in command. The little girls finally became the wives of Pitt and Benjamin Milner Esquires."

SKetch of Milner family written by Mrs Susan Johnson in 1870.

Service: see family history.

"Captain John Holmes enlisted Feb. 16, 1776. Was Chaplain of the brigade of Gen. Lochlan McIntosh and one of the founders of the Georgia Society of the Cincinnatti."

from Heitmans Historical Register of Officers of the Continental Army: "Holmes, John, Ga. Chaplain 1st Ga. 10th Feb. 1776 to____. Died 1806."

JOHN HOLMES (1747-1803)

The purpose of this paper on John Holmes, who married Chloe Bentley, was father of Apsilla Holmes (1770-1854) who married Pitt Milner (1769-1839), is two-fold: to disprove a widely circulated myth about John Holmes; and to summarize both the facts actually known about him, and those bits of information which may be true but need research.

First of all, there is no family tradition about where or when John Holmes was born. Some descendants believe him to have been born in 1747, in Caroline County, Virginia, and married in 1767. There is, however, a consistent family tradition that he married Chloe Bentley. It is believed she was the daughter of William Bentley (a lieutenant and then captain in the Revolution, serving in Virginia) and of Mary Elliott, his wife. The problem is that the Holmes Bibles have long since been lost to view for most of us, and other documentary evidence is not yet found and perhaps nonexistent.

The will of John Holmes, in summary, is given here as it is our only incontrovertible and accessible source of family data. I quote here from Grace G. Davidson's The Early Records of Georgia: Wilkes County (Two volumes, Macon, 1932; reprinted Vidalia, Georgia, 1968, by Silas E. Lucas, Jr.), Volume 1, page 75. The will is in Wilkes County Will Book 1806-1808, page 61, but note that the book contains earlier wills. The Georgia Department of Archives has a copy on microfilm.

> HOLMES, JOHN. To wife Cloe whole estate for life. To dau. Apsilla Milner, beds, cows, etc. To dau. Penelope Milner, horse, bed, etc., which she has already received. To dau Mary Parks, ditto, already received. Land to be divided among his four sons, Josiah, John, and James, called eldest (sons). To Moses a slave Isaac also. To dau. Elizabeth and son Moses a horse each at majority. Wife Chloe, Geo. Willis, Sr., Jere. Reeves and my three oldest sons, Josiah, John and James, Excrs. Signed Sept. 4, 1802. Probated Mar. 8, 1803. Jeremiah Reeves, Malachi Reeves, Test.

Comments: 1) The date of John Holmes' death is sometimes, incorrectly, given as 1806. He died shortly before the will was probated, hence in early 1803. 2) The Geo. Willis, Sr. mentioned was the father of Elizabeth Dabney Willis, who married John Holmes Milner, son of Pitt and Apsilla. 3) Mary Parks was widowed and married second Elisha Kendall.

I. The Myth

The myth about our John Holmes, which we find in various D. A. R. applications and publications from the 1890's on, has it that he was a Justice of the Peace in St. George's Parish (Burke County) in 1774; that he was rector of a church in the same parish; that he was chaplain of General McIntosh's brigade or in the 1st Georgia Regiment, enlisting in 1776; that he was among the men in Georgia proscribed by the Crown from holding public office; that he was a founder and the chaplain of the Georgia Society of the Cincinnati. Some of these misconceptions were repeated in Ettie T. McCall's Roster of Revolutionary Soldiers in Georgia, published by the Georgia Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution in 1941, and in the recent history of Wilkes County, We Have This Heritage, by Robert M. Willingham. Some accounts also have him a schoolmaster in Savannah, and two D. A. R. applicants have him a captive on the prison ship "Pack Horse."

Research leads me to conclude that the events described above do not belong to the life of our John Holmes. The reason for the error is very simple. A John Holmes was indeed rector of a church in St. George's Parish, a J. P. there, was proscribed from public office by the Crown (1780), was Chaplain of the Eighth or Rifle Company of Col. McIntosh's brigade (raised in 1776), was an original member and chaplain of the Georgia Society of the Cincinnati. But he was not our John Holmes, who married Chloe Bentley, died in Wilkes County in 1803, and left children.

How did the legend ever get started? George White's Historical Collections of Georgia was published in 1854, and gives all the information in the preceding paragraph. The ladies joining the D. A. R. knew their John Holmes had served in the Revolution and assumed that White's John Holmes was their ancestor and so added data from White to their rather sparse information on Holmes from family sources. That this assumption is incorrect appears as we examine the data.

The first thing to realize is that John Holmes was not such an uncommon name. Since some of the information alleged that our John Holmes lived at one time in Savannah, I read, on microfilm, all the appropriate references shown in the index in the Savannah newspaper, The Georgia Gazette, from 1763 to 1799. I checked the references to Holmes, J. Holmes, John Holmes, Capt. John Holmes (the index here was in error; this man was Captain Joseph Holmes, a ship's captain), Rev. John Holmes, Rev. Holmes, and Mrs. Holmes. There were several John Holmes, none of whom appeared to overlap; one was John Holmes, Esq., a lawyer; one kept school; one was the Rev. John Holmes, of whom more later; one was a runaway sailor from New England; one had lived in St. Augustine but died in Savannah in 1785. Then there is John Holmes of Charleston who advertised for a runaway slave (may be the same man as John Bee Holmes of Charleston); the Rev. Abiel Holmes of the Sunbury Colony in Liberty County, from whom the two Oliver Wendell Holmes, father and son, descended; and many others.

Some have attempted to place our John Holmes in Charleston but the evidence for this is slim. The schoolmaster in Savannah, who advertised in the paper, is probably the origin of the idea that our man taught school there, which, considering what is known about the rest of his life, is unlikely. However, most of the confusion comes from the fact that events relating to the life of the Rev. John Holmes, mentioned above, who, as we shall see, is the one mentioned in White's Historical Collections of Georgia, have been appropriated for our John Holmes.

The Rev. John Holmes, however, died in 1784, apparently unmarried.

I think it worthwhile to give what is known about this Rev. Holmes. The Georgia Gazette for April 1, 1784, page 2, carries this notice: "Died, on Tuesday last, the Rev. John Holmes, who for some time past officiated as Rector of Christ Church. His remains were interred yesterday evening, attended by the Most Ancient and Honorable Masons, and a great number of Respectable Citizens."

The Georgia Gazette for April 8, 1784, page 1, carries a long proposed epitaph:

"The following epitaph is designed for the Tomb Stone of the Rev. John Holmes, deceased:

THIS STONE
Is sacred to the memory
OF THE REVEREND JOHN HOLMES,
Late Rector of Christ Church Parish
AND CHAPLAIN
Of the State Society of the Cincinnati.
He was
A NATIVE OF IRELAND.
AT
The Commencement of the late War
He stood forth a decided Advocate
OF AMERICAN FREEDOM:
In
The Course of that Contest
He suffered Captivity with Patience
Remained stedfast in his Principles,
AND SAW THE
GLORIOUS REVOLUTION ACCOMPLISHED.
As
A Gentleman of exalted Genius,
Extensive Erudition and strict Integrity,
He lived in general Estimation
AND DIED
March 30th, A. D. 1784, in Savannah
Aetatis Suae
ELI(?these figures are illegible)
UNIVERSALLY LAMENTED.
HE
Exhibited a happy Influence
OF
Political Zeal without Rancour;
OF
Wisdom without Pedantry;
OF GENUINE WIT
With Unbounded Philanthropy
AND
Of acknowledged Eminence
Without a personal Enemy,
THIS CHARACTER
IS DRAWN BY A FRIEND
To whom his many Virtues were known."

Note that there is no mention of grieving wife nor bereaved children. (Both newspaper quotations may be found in the University of Georgia Libraries, Microfilm Collection, Georgia Gazette Jan. 30, 1784-Oct. 16, 1788, FILM AN 13 S45 G42 r.1.)

I think that the above proposed epitaph adequately disposes of the notion that our John Holmes was ever rector of Christ Church or chaplain of the Society of the Cincinnati--unless one assumes that the Society had two chaplains, both miraculously named John Holmes. The Rev. John Holmes was indeed held captive, but I don't know where our ladies got the idea about our man being on the prison ship "Pack Horse"!

One might think that our John Holmes could have been the one who was chaplain of the Eighth Company of Col. Lachlan McIntosh's brigade, and/or a J. P. in St. George's Parish and/or rector of a church there, and/or on the list of men forbidden to hold public office put out by the British government in 1780. As for the last item, I think it obvious that when one compares the lives of the two John Holmes, that the only one prominent enough to be proscribed was the Rev. John Holmes of Christ Church Parish who died in 1784. In fact, our man was probably not in Georgia till 1784, after the close of the Revolution.

Furthermore, I have found material on the life of a Rev. John Holmes who was a missionary to St. George's Parish which strongly suggests that he was the same minister as the one who died in 1784. Following a footnote in Kenneth Coleman's Colonial Georgia, I found Religion and the State of Georgia in the Eighteenth Century by Reba Strickland (New York, Columbia University Press, 1939), which is in Special Collections, University of Georgia Libraries. In it, we learn that the Justices of the Peace were often clergymen (pages 122-123); and that the Rev. John Holmes of St. George's Parish and the Rev. William Percy were the only Anglican ministers known to have supported the rebel cause (page 149). Following her citation of a letter from Holmes (pages 113-114) to the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, I found the Society's papers on microfilm at the University of Georgia library, and read the two letters from Holmes they contain. Holmes had been sent to Georgia by the Society, the headquarters of which were in London, arriving in Savannah on December 5, 1773. His two letters, of 1774 and 1775, detail his labours in the wilderness of present Burke County, a great parish inhabited by only 400 families, half of them Presbyterian, where what little knowledge the settlers had they had "acquired from a parcel of illiterate Anabaptist preachers" and where murders by Indians had lately occurred. (The call number of this microfilm is: FILM BV 2500 A6A1 ser. C r.16.)

There is never any mention of wife nor children. And of course, we have never thought that our John Holmes arrived in this country in 1773. In fact, his oldest child Apsilla was born in 1770 in North Carolina.

I think that there can be no doubt that the intrepid bachelor missionary sent to Saint George's Parish by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel was the rector in that parish, mentioned in White's Historical Collections; that he was also a J. P. there. There is little doubt it was he who was chaplain of the Eighth or Rifle Company of Col. Lachlan McIntosh's brigade, raised in 1776; and very probable that he was the Rev. John Holmes later rector of Christ Church, Savannah, imprisoned during the Revolution by the British, and chaplain of the Georgia Society of the Cincinnati until his death in 1784.

Another consideration is that in the only period of his life for which we have much information, that from 1784 until his death in 1803 during which he was a settler in Wilkes County, Georgia, our John Holmes emerges as a farmer who had, it seems, fought in the Revolution. Probably a robust character and certainly hard-working, as any successful settler had to be. He does no school-teaching, no preaching. Nothing indicates his being a learned man nor one-time minister. He does not appear to have joined any church. (His wife Chloe and son John joined the Sardis Baptist Church in Wilkes County, but there is no mention of the older John in the church minutes. Incidentally, Sardis is the church to which John and Elizabeth Milner, Pitt and Apsilla Milner, and George and Susannah Willis belonged.)

II. Other Information and Avenues for Exploration

In the absence of family Bibles, the earliest documentary evidence we have for our John Holmes dates from 1784 and is from Georgia. In 1784 he takes up a total of 662 acres in Wilkes County, in four grants (two bordering John Milner's land.) How do we know that it is our John Holmes? Not only because we know from his will that he lived in Wilkes County, but because when he sells some of the land, his wife Chloe's name appears on the deed also. See, for example, Davidson's Early Records of Georgia, Volume 1, page 274. The originals of these grants are at the Surveyor-General's Office in the Georgia Archives building, Atlanta, Georgia 30334, and they are, of course, recorded in Wilkes County deed books. Davidson's book is well indexed and you will find numberous references to John Holmes therein; her summary of his will has already been cited.

John Holmes' land grants in Wilkes County, on file at the Surveyor-General's Office do not specify that they are bounty grants, hence they could have been granted under the headright system,which did not require prior military service. However, a John Holmes received 287½ acres in Washington County, Georgia, on a grant signed on June 5, 1784, for which the warrant number was 2458 (L. L. Knight, Georgia's Roster of the Revolution, Atlanta, 1920, page 201). The number of acres (250 with no taxes or 287½ with taxes) was the standard number given to ex-soldiers. I believe this John Holmes to be our man. Many men who settled in Wilkes County had received grants elsewhere, particularly in Washington County, which, like Franklin County, was created in 1784 expressly to provide a framework for grants (headright and bounty) for the settlers pouring into Georgia.

It is uncertain what John Holmes' rank was, though he is sometimes listed as Captain. Captains of militia districts were commonly called Captain, which may be the origin of John Holmes' title. Davidson (Volume 1, page 129) cites Inferior Court minutes of 1795 appointing "Captain John Holmes and Pitman Milner"(doubtless our Pitt Milner) road surveyors.

Research is needed on John Holmes' birthplace, perhaps indeed Caroline County, Virginia, and on his parentage.

The Bentley line is almost as little known.

John Holmes' son James was born in a fort, according to tradition found in some branches of the family, but whether John Holmes commanded a fort during the Revolution, as some D. A. R. applications state, is not supported by any evidence. James was born in Wilkes County after the war, on April 24, 1785, according to his descendants. There were during the war five different forts in Wilkes County--Fort Heard (later the town of Washington); Heard's Fort, also sometimes called Fort Heard, which was on Fishing Creek; Clarke's Fort; Freeman's Fort; and Fort James (see Robert M. Willingham, We Have This Heritage, Washington, Georgia, Wilkes Publishing Co., 1969). If James was born in any one of these buildings earlier used as forts, he would have nevertheless been "born in a fort". I wonder whether he was born in Heard's Fort on Fishing Creek, since one of Holmes's grants was on that creek and he may have lived there for a while. This creek is in the eastern part of the county.

Incidentally, Holmes's other grants were in the western part of the county, and it has been thought that he lived in the western part.

Apsilla Holmes Milner is said in the 1850 census of Henry County, Georgia, to have been born in 1770 in North Carolina. (Apsilla was then a widow and living with her daughter, Penelope Milner Eason.) We know from land titles and

James Holmes' birth data that the family was in Georgia in 1784-1785. Yet a younger son, Josiah, is thought by his descendants to have also been born in North Carolina in 1788. The family may have returned to North Carolina to settle an estate or sell land. We do not know enough about John Holmes' North Carolina years.

If John Holmes was born in Virginia, was in North Carolina in 1770, and did not reach Georgia until 1784, he obviously could have spent the years of the Revolution in North Carolina. The North Carolina Department of Archives and History, Raleigh, North Carolina, has among its Treasurer and Comptroller Papers three Revolutionary Pay Vouchers made out to John Holmes (dating from 1779 to 1782, from Halifax District and Duplin County), but we cannot be sure at present these are for our John.

In State Records of North Carolina, edited by Walter Clark (Goldsboro, North Carolina, Nash Bros., 1899), Volume XVI, the Roster of the Continental Line is given. On page 1083 are listed Josiah Holmes and John Holmes, both enlisting as privates for 12 months beginning 18 December 1781. This is for the Continental Line, not militia nor home guard. Perhaps these are our John Holmes and a brother, since the name Josiah reappears among John's children.

I think it probable that John Holmes' military service took place in North Carolina. I wish we knew more about who he really was and what he really did. Maybe by digging into records and asking the right questions we can find out at least something more than we now know.

He married CLIFFORD ALLENE BOSWELL 24 Mar 1909 in Columbus, Muscogee, GA[2], daughter of DANIEL BOSWELL and NONA RITCH. She was born 30 Oct 1888 in Mansfield, Tarrant, TX, and died 05 Dec 1966 in Toccoa, Stephens, GA bu Molena Cem., Molena, GA[3].

Notes for ENOCH POPE JORDAN, SR.:
The Masonic record of Enoch Pope Jordan, father of Dan Boswell Jordan is as follows from the files of the Grand Lodge of Georgia, sent to us on 3 May 1991.

He joined the Masonic order and was made a Master Mason on 26 Dec 1908. This was in Mount Hermon Lodge # 304 in Columbus, Muscogee Co., GA. He dimitted in 25 aug 1927

He joined Mount Olive Lodge #122 in Molena, Pike co., GA 16 Sep 1927.

His death date is recorded here as 18 Oct 1948.

Enoch Pope Jordan served as Master of Mount Olive Lodge 7 straight years, from 1928 thru 1934. Then again in 1942 thru 1945. (This was a small Lodge in a very small community. ).

When I (vhj) came into the Jordan family in 1945, Daddy Enoch had already been ill for some time. In fact that was why they couldn't come to our wedding in Houston, TX. She wouldn't leave him. Also, Dan wanted his brother to be his best man, but Enoch, Jr. was expecting his 2nd child any minute, and he wouldn't leave his wife. At that time, I believe they were in ILL.

Notes for CLIFFORD ALLENE BOSWELL:
When I, Vivian Hill Jordan, first started collecting data on the Jordans and Boswells, it was to 'Little Cliffie' that I turned. She knew more about both familes that the rest of her siblings. She was the oldest in her family, (hence the name of Clifford, I guess, they wanted a boy! Her masculine first name was a great deal of trouble to her youngest son, Dan Boswell Jordan. My husband has told the story many times of having papers returned from some Army sergeant, saying 'We need your MOTHER'S first name and him writing back, THIS IS MY MOTHERS FIRST NAME!!!!!!

I found litte to correct in her facts that she gave me, from her memory. Remember, this is GEORGIA, where the stories are told and retold so many times that the info gets passed on in a correct manner.

Children of ENOCH JORDAN and CLIFFORD BOSWELL are:

i. GORDON KENDALL[5] JORDAN, b. 23 Sep 1910, Columbus,Muscogee,GA; d. bu Molena,Pike,GA.

ii. ENOCH POPE JORDAN, JR., b. 12 May 1912, Columbus, Muscogee, GA; d. 10 Jun 1960, San Mateo, CA; m. ALIDA BARTLETT, 14 Jun 1936, Molena, Pike, GA; b. GA; d. 03 Jun 2006, Carrollton, GA bu Molena, GA.

iii. DAN BOSWELL JORDAN, b. 04 Apr 1918, Bullockville, Meriwether, GA(Warm Spgs); d. 17 Mar 2009, Colorado Sprgs., El Paso, CO.; m. VIVIAN MAE HILL, 10 Nov 1945, Palmer Mem. Methodist Chu.,Houston,TX; b. 14 Sep 1924, El Paso, El Paso, TX.

iv. POLLY JORDAN, b. 19 Sep 1920, Molena, Pike, GA[4]; m. LONNIE L. TREXLER, JR., 24 May 1945, West Point, Troup, GA; b. 08 Sep 1920, Asheville, NC.

Notes for POLLY JORDAN:
Polly, who is still alive at this writing, Dec 1997, gave all the vital statistics for herself and husband. They never had children. Unfortunately, she lost 2 or three children, the first 3 or 4 months after conception. Lonnie worked for the Coats and Clark Dye people as a chemist for many years and retired from this position.

Polly taught in a vocational school in Toccoa for many years. She and Lonnie are well known in that area, very active in their Methodist Church. Lonnie has a large, large garden every year and Polly puts up the vegetables and they give away the rest.

6. WILLIAM OREN[4] JORDAN (NANCY LEE[3] HOOTEN, ENOCH MILTON[2], JAMES[1]) was born 26 Sep 1889. He married MARY IVEY.

Child of WILLIAM JORDAN and MARY IVEY is:

i. BENJAMIN THOMAS[5] JORDAN, d. Jan 1998, Molena, Pike Co., GA; m. MARY GRUBBS.

Notes for BENJAMIN THOMAS JORDAN:
Known as' Uncle' Ben to my(vj) children, altho their father was 1st cousin to Ben. Ben was tall, lanky, wry sense of humor, didn't talk much. He was more of a contemporary of my husband's big brother, Enoth, Jr., but I'm sure that my husband tagged along when allowed. His children always went swimming with our three daughters, when we came to GA for a visit from TX.

7. JOHN GWYN[4] JORDAN (NANCY LEE[3] HOOTEN, ENOCH MILTON[2], JAMES[1]) was born 05 Aug 1897, and died in GA. He married AUDREY.

Notes for JOHN GWYN JORDAN:
'Gwyn' as he was known in the family was a CPA in Atlanta, GA. When Dan Boswell Jordan was a young man, his Uncle Gwyn offered to take him into the business, but Dan refused. The information on this family was sent to me by Audrey, Gwyn's wife, well after his death.

Child of JOHN JORDAN and AUDREY is:

i. GWYN[5] JORDAN.

2. Personel knowledge from the participant.
3. Death Certificate, Jordan Document File, From the Stephens Co., GA Bureau of Vital Statistics. 'Little Cliffie', as she was called, knew that she was not well and called her daughter, Polly, in Toccoa, GA. Polly and her husband, Lonnie Trexler, Jr. drove down and took her back to their home. They said that when they came into the house that evidently she had tried to open a can of coffee or dropped the canister, for there were grounds all over the kitchen floor. Probablly a stroke. We were all so glad that she had gone like she did, for like all of us, she dreaded being a burden to her children She is buried in Molena, Pike Co., GA., next to her beloved Enoch. The cemetery is across the street from their old home.

JOHN HOLMES (1747-1803)

The purpose of this paper on John Holmes, who married Chloe Bentley, was father of Apsilla Holmes (1770-1854) who married Pitt Milner (1769-1839), is two-fold: to disprove a widely circulated myth about John Holmes; and to summarize both the facts actually known about him, and those bits of information which may be true but need research.

First of all, there is no family tradition about where or when John Holmes was born. Some descendants believe him to have been born in 1747, in Caroline County, Virginia, and married in 1767. There is, however, a consistent family tradition that he married Chloe Bentley. It is believed she was the daughter of William Bentley (a lieutenant and then captain in the Revolution, serving in Virginia) and of Mary Elliott, his wife. The problem is that the Holmes Bibles have long since been lost to view for most of us, and other documentary evidence is not yet found and perhaps nonexistent.

The will of John Holmes, in summary, is given here as it is our only incontrovertible and accessible source of family data. I quote here from Grace G. Davidson's The Early Records of Georgia: Wilkes County (Two volumes, Macon, 1932; reprinted Vidalia, Georgia, 1968, by Silas E. Lucas, Jr.), Volume 1, page 75. The will is in Wilkes County Will Book 1806-1808, page 61, but note that the book contains earlier wills. The Georgia Department of Archives has a copy on microfilm.

> HOLMES, JOHN. To wife Cloe whole estate for life. To dau. Apsilla Milner, beds, cows, etc. To dau. Penelope Milner, horse, bed, etc., which she has already received. To dau Mary Parks, ditto, already received. Land to be divided among his four sons, Josiah, John, and James, called eldest (sons). To Moses a slave Isaac also. To dau. Elizabeth and son Moses a horse each at majority. Wife Chloe, Geo. Willis, Sr., Jere. Reeves and my three oldest sons, Josiah, John and James, Excrs. Signed Sept. 4, 1802. Probated Mar. 8, 1803. Jeremiah Reeves, Malachi Reeves, Test.

Comments: 1) The date of John Holmes' death is sometimes, incorrectly, given as 1806. He died shortly before the will was probated, hence in early 1803. 2) The Geo. Willis, Sr. mentioned was the father of Elizabeth Dabney Willis, who married John Holmes Milner, son of Pitt and Apsilla. 3) Mary Parks was widowed and married second Elisha Kendall.

I. The Myth

The myth about our John Holmes, which we find in various D. A. R. applications and publications from the 1890's on, has it that he was a Justice of the Peace in St. George's Parish (Burke County) in 1774; that he was rector of a church in the same parish; that he was chaplain of General McIntosh's brigade or in the 1st Georgia Regiment, enlisting in 1776; that he was among the men in Georgia proscribed by the Crown from holding public office; that he was a founder and the chaplain of the Georgia Society of the Cincinnati. Some of these misconceptions were repeated in Ettie T. McCall's Roster of Revolutionary Soldiers in Georgia, published by the Georgia Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution in 1941, and in the recent history of Wilkes County, We Have This Heritage, by Robert M. Willingham. Some accounts also have him a schoolmaster in Savannah, and two D. A. R. applicants have him a captive on the prison ship "Pack Horse."

Research leads me to conclude that the events described above do not belong to the life of our John Holmes. The reason for the error is very simple. A John Holmes was indeed rector of a church in St. George's Parish, a J. P. there, was proscribed from public office by the Crown (1780), was Chaplain of the Eighth or Rifle Company of Col. McIntosh's brigade (raised in 1776), was an original member and chaplain of the Georgia Society of the Cincinnati. But he was not our John Holmes, who married Chloe Bentley, died in Wilkes County in 1803, and left children.

How did the legend ever get started? George White's Historical Collections of Georgia was published in 1854, and gives all the information in the preceding paragraph. The ladies joining the D. A. R. knew their John Holmes had served in the Revolution and assumed that White's John Holmes was their ancestor and so added data from White to their rather sparse information on Holmes from family sources. That this assumption is incorrect appears as we examine the data.

The first thing to realize is that John Holmes was not such an uncommon name. Since some of the information alleged that our John Holmes lived at one time in Savannah, I read, on microfilm, all the appropriate references shown in the index in the Savannah newspaper, The Georgia Gazette, from 1763 to 1799. I checked the references to Holmes, J. Holmes, John Holmes, Capt. John Holmes (the index here was in error; this man was Captain Joseph Holmes, a ship's captain), Rev. John Holmes, Rev. Holmes, and Mrs. Holmes. There were several John Holmes, none of whom appeared to overlap; one was John Holmes, Esq., a lawyer; one kept school; one was the Rev. John Holmes, of whom more later; one was a runaway sailor from New England; one had lived in St. Augustine but died in Savannah in 1785. Then there is John Holmes of Charleston who advertised for a runaway slave (may be the same man as John Bee Holmes of Charleston); the Rev. Abiel Holmes of the Sunbury Colony in Liberty County, from whom the two Oliver Wendell Holmes, father and son, descended; and many others.

Some have attempted to place our John Holmes in Charleston but the evidence for this is slim. The schoolmaster in Savannah, who advertised in the paper, is probably the origin of the idea that our man taught school there, which, considering what is known about the rest of his life, is unlikely. However, most of the confusion comes from the fact that events relating to the life of the Rev. John Holmes, mentioned above, who, as we shall see, is the one mentioned in White's Historical Collections of Georgia, have been appropriated for our John Holmes.

The Rev. John Holmes, however, died in 1784, apparently unmarried.

I think it worthwhile to give what is known about this Rev. Holmes. The Georgia Gazette for April 1, 1784, page 2, carries this notice: "Died, on Tuesday last, the Rev. John Holmes, who for some time past officiated as Rector of Christ Church. His remains were interred yesterday evening, attended by the Most Ancient and Honorable Masons, and a great number of Respectable Citizens."

The Georgia Gazette for April 8, 1784, page 1, carries a long proposed epitaph:

"The following epitaph is designed for the Tomb Stone of the Rev. John Holmes, deceased:

THIS STONE
Is sacred to the memory
OF THE REVEREND JOHN HOLMES,
Late Rector of Christ Church Parish
AND CHAPLAIN
Of the State Society of the Cincinnati.
He was
A NATIVE OF IRELAND.
AT
The Commencement of the late War
He stood forth a decided Advocate
OF AMERICAN FREEDOM:
In
The Course of that Contest
He suffered Captivity with Patience
Remained stedfast in his Principles,
AND SAW THE
GLORIOUS REVOLUTION ACCOMPLISHED.
As
A Gentleman of exalted Genius,
Extensive Erudition and strict Integrity,
He lived in general Estimation
AND DIED
March 30th, A. D. 1784, in Savannah
Aetatis Suae
ELI(?these figures are illegible)
UNIVERSALLY LAMENTED.
HE
Exhibited a happy Influence
OF
Political Zeal without Rancour;
OF
Wisdom without Pedantry;
OF GENUINE WIT
With Unbounded Philanthropy
AND
Of acknowledged Eminence
Without a personal Enemy,
THIS CHARACTER
IS DRAWN BY A FRIEND
To whom his many Virtues were known."

Note that there is no mention of grieving wife nor bereaved children. (Both newspaper quotations may be found in the University of Georgia Libraries, Microfilm Collection, Georgia Gazette Jan. 30, 1784-Oct. 16, 1788, FILM AN 13 S45 G42 r.1.)

I think that the above proposed epitaph adequately disposes of the notion that our John Holmes was ever rector of Christ Church or chaplain of the Society of the Cincinnati--unless one assumes that the Society had two chaplains, both miraculously named John Holmes. The Rev. John Holmes was indeed held captive, but I don't know where our ladies got the idea about our man being on the prison ship "Pack Horse"!

One might think that our John Holmes could have been the one who was chaplain of the Eighth Company of Col. Lachlan McIntosh's brigade, and/or a J. P. in St. George's Parish and/or rector of a church there, and/or on the list of men forbidden to hold public office put out by the British government in 1780. As for the last item, I think it obvious that when one compares the lives of the two John Holmes, that the only one prominent enough to be proscribed was the Rev. John Holmes of Christ Church Parish who died in 1784. In fact, our man was probably not in Georgia till 1784, after the close of the Revolution.

Furthermore, I have found material on the life of a Rev. John Holmes who was a missionary to St. George's Parish which strongly suggests that he was the same minister as the one who died in 1784. Following a footnote in Kenneth Coleman's Colonial Georgia, I found Religion and the State of Georgia in the Eighteenth Century by Reba Strickland (New York, Columbia University Press, 1939), which is in Special Collections, University of Georgia Libraries. In it, we learn that the Justices of the Peace were often clergymen (pages 122-123); and that the Rev. John Holmes of St. George's Parish and the Rev. William Percy were the only Anglican ministers known to have supported the rebel cause (page 149). Following her citation of a letter from Holmes (pages 113-114) to the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, I found the Society's papers on microfilm at the University of Georgia library, and read the two letters from Holmes they contain. Holmes had been sent to Georgia by the Society, the headquarters of which were in London, arriving in Savannah on December 5, 1773. His two letters, of 1774 and 1775, detail his labours in the wilderness of present Burke County, a great parish inhabited by only 400 families, half of them Presbyterian, where what little knowledge the settlers had they had "acquired from a parcel of illiterate Anabaptist preachers" and where murders by Indians had lately occurred. (The call number of this microfilm is: FILM BV 2500 A6A1 ser. C r.16.)

There is never any mention of wife nor children. And of course, we have never thought that our John Holmes arrived in this country in 1773. In fact, his oldest child Apsilla was born in 1770 in North Carolina.

I think that there can be no doubt that the intrepid bachelor missionary sent to Saint George's Parish by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel was the rector in that parish, mentioned in White's Historical Collections; that he was also a J. P. there. There is little doubt it was he who was chaplain of the Eighth or Rifle Company of Col. Lachlan McIntosh's brigade, raised in 1776; and very probable that he was the Rev. John Holmes later rector of Christ Church, Savannah, imprisoned during the Revolution by the British, and chaplain of the Georgia Society of the Cincinnati until his death in 1784.

Another consideration is that in the only period of his life for which we have much information, that from 1784 until his death in 1803 during which he was a settler in Wilkes County, Georgia, our John Holmes emerges as a farmer who had, it seems, fought in the Revolution. Probably a robust character and certainly hard-working, as any successful settler had to be. He does no school-teaching, no preaching. Nothing indicates his being a learned man nor one-time minister. He does not appear to have joined any church. (His wife Chloe and son John joined the Sardis Baptist Church in Wilkes County, but there is no mention of the older John in the church minutes. Incidentally, Sardis is the church to which John and Elizabeth Milner, Pitt and Apsilla Milner, and George and Susannah Willis belonged.)

II. Other Information and Avenues for Exploration

In the absence of family Bibles, the earliest documentary evidence we have for our John Holmes dates from 1784 and is from Georgia. In 1784 he takes up a total of 662 acres in Wilkes County, in four grants (two bordering John Milner's land.) How do we know that it is our John Holmes? Not only because we know from his will that he lived in Wilkes County, but because when he sells some of the land, his wife Chloe's name appears on the deed also. See, for example, Davidson's Early Records of Georgia, Volume 1, page 274. The originals of these grants are at the Surveyor-General's Office in the Georgia Archives building, Atlanta, Georgia 30334, and they are, of course, recorded in Wilkes County deed books. Davidson's book is well indexed and you will find numberous references to John Holmes therein; her summary of his will has already been cited.

John Holmes' land grants in Wilkes County, on file at the Surveyor-General's Office do not specify that they are bounty grants, hence they could have been granted under the headright system,which did not require prior military service. However, a John Holmes received 287½ acres in Washington County, Georgia, on a grant signed on June 5, 1784, for which the warrant number was 2458 (L. L. Knight, Georgia's Roster of the Revolution, Atlanta, 1920, page 201). The number of acres (250 with no taxes or 287½ with taxes) was the standard number given to ex-soldiers. I believe this John Holmes to be our man. Many men who settled in Wilkes County had received grants elsewhere, particularly in Washington County, which, like Franklin County, was created in 1784 expressly to provide a framework for grants (headright and bounty) for the settlers pouring into Georgia.

It is uncertain what John Holmes' rank was, though he is sometimes listed as Captain. Captains of militia districts were commonly called Captain, which may be the origin of John Holmes' title. Davidson (Volume 1, page 129) cites Inferior Court minutes of 1795 appointing "Captain John Holmes and Pitman Milner"(doubtless our Pitt Milner) road surveyors.

Research is needed on John Holmes' birthplace, perhaps indeed Caroline County, Virginia, and on his parentage.

The Bentley line is almost as little known.

John Holmes' son James was born in a fort, according to tradition found in some branches of the family, but whether John Holmes commanded a fort during the Revolution, as some D. A. R. applications state, is not supported by any evidence. James was born in Wilkes County after the war, on April 24, 1785, according to his descendants. There were during the war five different forts in Wilkes County--Fort Heard (later the town of Washington); Heard's Fort, also sometimes called Fort Heard, which was on Fishing Creek; Clarke's Fort; Freeman's Fort; and Fort James (see Robert M. Willingham, We Have This Heritage, Washington, Georgia, Wilkes Publishing Co., 1969). If James was born in any one of these buildings earlier used as forts, he would have nevertheless been "born in a fort". I wonder whether he was born in Heard's Fort on Fishing Creek, since one of Holmes's grants was on that creek and he may have lived there for a while. This creek is in the eastern part of the county.

Incidentally, Holmes's other grants were in the western part of the county, and it has been thought that he lived in the western part.

Apsilla Holmes Milner is said in the 1850 census of Henry County, Georgia, to have been born in 1770 in North Carolina. (Apsilla was then a widow and living with her daughter, Penelope Milner Eason.) We know from land titles and

James Holmes' birth data that the family was in Georgia in 1784-1785. Yet a younger son, Josiah, is thought by his descendants to have also been born in North Carolina in 1788. The family may have returned to North Carolina to settle an estate or sell land. We do not know enough about John Holmes' North Carolina years.

If John Holmes was born in Virginia, was in North Carolina in 1770, and did not reach Georgia until 1784, he obviously could have spent the years of the Revolution in North Carolina. The North Carolina Department of Archives and History, Raleigh, North Carolina, has among its Treasurer and Comptroller Papers three Revolutionary Pay Vouchers made out to John Holmes (dating from 1779 to 1782, from Halifax District and Duplin County), but we cannot be sure at present these are for our John.

In State Records of North Carolina, edited by Walter Clark (Goldsboro, North Carolina, Nash Bros., 1899), Volume XVI, the Roster of the Continental Line is given. On page 1083 are listed Josiah Holmes and John Holmes, both enlisting as privates for 12 months beginning 18 December 1781. This is for the Continental Line, not militia nor home guard. Perhaps these are our John Holmes and a brother, since the name Josiah reappears among John's children.

I think it probable that John Holmes' military service took place in North Carolina. I wish we knew more about who he really was and what he really did. Maybe by digging into records and asking the right questions we can find out at least something more than we now know.

He married CLIFFORD ALLENE BOSWELL 24 Mar 1909 in Columbus, Muscogee, GA[2], daughter of DANIEL BOSWELL and NONA RITCH. She was born 30 Oct 1888 in Mansfield, Tarrant, TX, and died 05 Dec 1966 in Toccoa, Stephens, GA bu Molena Cem., Molena, GA[3].

Notes for ENOCH POPE JORDAN, SR.:
The Masonic record of Enoch Pope Jordan, father of Dan Boswell Jordan is as follows from the files of the Grand Lodge of Georgia, sent to us on 3 May 1991.

He joined the Masonic order and was made a Master Mason on 26 Dec 1908. This was in Mount Hermon Lodge # 304 in Columbus, Muscogee Co., GA. He dimitted in 25 aug 1927

He joined Mount Olive Lodge #122 in Molena, Pike co., GA 16 Sep 1927.

His death date is recorded here as 18 Oct 1948.

Enoch Pope Jordan served as Master of Mount Olive Lodge 7 straight years, from 1928 thru 1934. Then again in 1942 thru 1945. (This was a small Lodge in a very small community. ).

When I (vhj) came into the Jordan family in 1945, Daddy Enoch had already been ill for some time. In fact that was why they couldn't come to our wedding in Houston, TX. She wouldn't leave him. Also, Dan wanted his brother to be his best man, but Enoch, Jr. was expecting his 2nd child any minute, and he wouldn't leave his wife. At that time, I believe they were in ILL.

Notes for CLIFFORD ALLENE BOSWELL:
When I, Vivian Hill Jordan, first started collecting data on the Jordans and Boswells, it was to 'Little Cliffie' that I turned. She knew more about both familes that the rest of her siblings. She was the oldest in her family, (hence the name of Clifford, I guess, they wanted a boy! Her masculine first name was a great deal of trouble to her youngest son, Dan Boswell Jordan. My husband has told the story many times of having papers returned from some Army sergeant, saying 'We need your MOTHER'S first name and him writing back, THIS IS MY MOTHERS FIRST NAME!!!!!!

I found litte to correct in her facts that she gave me, from her memory. Remember, this is GEORGIA, where the stories are told and retold so many times that the info gets passed on in a correct manner.

Children of ENOCH JORDAN and CLIFFORD BOSWELL are:

i. GORDON KENDALL[5] JORDAN, b. 23 Sep 1910, Columbus,Muscogee,GA; d. bu Molena,Pike,GA.
ii. ENOCH POPE JORDAN, JR., b. 12 May 1912, Columbus, Muscogee, GA; d. 10 Jun 1960, San Mateo, CA; m. ALIDA BARTLETT, 14 Jun 1936, Molena, Pike, GA; b. GA; d. 03 Jun 2006, Carrollton, GA bu Molena, GA.
iii. DAN BOSWELL JORDAN, b. 04 Apr 1918, Bullockville, Meriwether, GA(Warm Spgs); d. 17 Mar 2009, Colorado Sprgs., El Paso, CO.; m. VIVIAN MAE HILL, 10 Nov 1945, Palmer Mem. Methodist Chu.,Houston,TX; b. 14 Sep 1924, El Paso, El Paso, TX.
iv. POLLY JORDAN, b. 19 Sep 1920, Molena, Pike, GA[4]; m. LONNIE L. TREXLER, JR., 24 May 1945, West Point, Troup, GA; b. 08 Sep 1920, Asheville, NC.

Notes for POLLY JORDAN:
Polly, who is still alive at this writing, Dec 1997, gave all the vital statistics for herself and husband. They never had children. Unfortunately, she lost 2 or three children, the first 3 or 4 months after conception. Lonnie worked for the Coats and Clark Dye people as a chemist for many years and retired from this position.

Polly taught in a vocational school in Toccoa for many years. She and Lonnie are well known in that area, very active in their Methodist Church. Lonnie has a large, large garden every year and Polly puts up the vegetables and they give away the rest.

6. WILLIAM OREN[4] JORDAN (NANCY LEE[3] HOOTEN, ENOCH MILTON[2], JAMES[1]) was born 26 Sep 1889. He married MARY IVEY.

Child of WILLIAM JORDAN and MARY IVEY is:

i. BENJAMIN THOMAS[5] JORDAN, d. Jan 1998, Molena, Pike Co., GA; m. MARY GRUBBS.

Notes for BENJAMIN THOMAS JORDAN:
Known as' Uncle' Ben to my(vj) children, altho their father was 1st cousin to Ben. Ben was tall, lanky, wry sense of humor, didn't talk much. He was more of a contemporary of my husband's big brother, Enoth, Jr., but I'm sure that my husband tagged along when allowed. His children always went swimming with our three daughters, when we came to GA for a visit from TX.

7. JOHN GWYN[4] JORDAN (NANCY LEE[3] HOOTEN, ENOCH MILTON[2], JAMES[1]) was born 05 Aug 1897, and died in GA. He married AUDREY.

Notes for JOHN GWYN JORDAN:
'Gwyn' as he was known in the family was a CPA in Atlanta, GA. When Dan Boswell Jordan was a young man, his Uncle Gwyn offered to take him into the business, but Dan refused. The information on this family was sent to me by Audrey, Gwyn's wife, well after his death.

Child of JOHN JORDAN and AUDREY is:

i. GWYN[5] JORDAN.

2. Personel knowledge from the participant.
3. Death Certificate, Jordan Document File, From the Stephens Co., GA Bureau of Vital Statistics. 'Little Cliffie', as she was called, knew that she was not well and called her daughter, Polly, in Toccoa, GA. Polly and her husband, Lonnie Trexler, Jr. drove down and took her back to their home. They said that when they came into the house that evidently she had tried to open a can of coffee or dropped the canister, for there were grounds all over the kitchen floor. Probablly a stroke. We were all so glad that she had gone like she did, for like all of us, she dreaded being a burden to her children She is buried in Molena, Pike Co., GA., next to her beloved Enoch. The cemetery is across the street from their old home.

PITT MILNER'S HOUSE AND CEMETERY, Lamar Co.,Ga.

MILNER FAMILY GRAVES

Mr. Homer C. Cooper, 145 Pendleton Drive, Athens, Ga. 30601 has contributed the inscriptions of tombstones found in two Milner cemeteries, together with more data on APSILLA or APSYLLA HOLMES MILNER. He noted that although the tombstone and her will spell her name Apsylla, the obituary and the family Bible record the spelling Apsilla.
Following the death of her husband PITT MILNER in 1839 in Monroe Co.,Ga. (now Lamar), Apsilla Holmes Milner moved to Henry County, Ga. to live with her daughter PENELOPE MILNER, wife of PARKER EASON (1798-1875). Mr. Cooper wondered why no gravestone for Penelope M. Eason was found beside the gravestone of Parker Eason. Does anyone know? Did Penelope survive her husband and move elsewhere, where she died?
Mr. Cooper transcribed the inscription of the Pitt Milner stone June 22, 1969, and Mr. John Holmes Milner transcribed the stones in the Eason cemetery in 1965. A report made by relatives at the Milner reunion told that the marker for Apsilla Milner was missing from the cemetery in 1969, and the lot was covered by brush. Because family graveyards are usually hard to find, we are including the map locations as a permanent record, to enable others to locate these graveyards in the future.

MILNER CEMETERY

Johnstonville District, G.M.D. 504, Lamar County, Georgia - 1969
In/Memory of/PITT MILNER SR./Who departed this Life/ July 21st, 1839/ Aged 70 years/& 29 days./ Blessed are the dead/ that die in the Lord.

This was the only visable grave in the cemetery. Pitt Milner (1769-1839) was a son of JOHN MILNER (1746-1812) and ELIZABETH GODWIN (1748-18??), of Wilkes and Oglethorpe Cos.,Ga. Pitt married in 1790 APSILLA HOLMES (1770-1854), daughter of JOHN HOLMES (1747-1802), and CHLOE BENTLEY (1749-18??), of Wilkes Co.,Ga.
Near the grave of Pitt Milner is his old home, which is occupied and approximately 140 years old. The house and cemetery are on land which is owned (1969) by Mr. Wyatt W. Childs of Johnstonville, Ga. The area was a part of Monroe County when Pitt lived there. The cemetery reading was made on June 22, 1969, the 200th anniversary of Pitt Milner's birth.

JOHN HOLMES (1747-1803)

The purpose of this paper on John Holmes, who married Chloe Bentley, was father of Apsilla Holmes (1770-1854) who married Pitt Milner (1769-1839), is two-fold: to disprove a widely circulated myth about John Holmes; and to summarize both the facts actually known about him, and those bits of information which may be true but need research.

First of all, there is no family tradition about where or when John Holmes was born. Some descendants believe him to have been born in 1747, in Caroline County, Virginia, and married in 1767. There is, however, a consistent family tradition that he married Chloe Bentley. It is believed she was the daughter of William Bentley (a lieutenant and then captain in the Revolution, serving in Virginia) and of Mary Elliott, his wife. The problem is that the Holmes Bibles have long since been lost to view for most of us, and other documentary evidence is not yet found and perhaps nonexistent.

The will of John Holmes, in summary, is given here as it is our only incontrovertible and accessible source of family data. I quote here from Grace G. Davidson's The Early Records of Georgia: Wilkes County (Two volumes, Macon, 1932; reprinted Vidalia, Georgia, 1968, by Silas E. Lucas, Jr.), Volume 1, page 75. The will is in Wilkes County Will Book 1806-1808, page 61, but note that the book contains earlier wills. The Georgia Department of Archives has a copy on microfilm.

> HOLMES, JOHN. To wife Cloe whole estate for life. To dau. Apsilla Milner, beds, cows, etc. To dau. Penelope Milner, horse, bed, etc., which she has already received. To dau Mary Parks, ditto, already received. Land to be divided among his four sons, Josiah, John, and James, called eldest (sons). To Moses a slave Isaac also. To dau. Elizabeth and son Moses a horse each at majority. Wife Chloe, Geo. Willis, Sr., Jere. Reeves and my three oldest sons, Josiah, John and James, Excrs. Signed Sept. 4, 1802. Probated Mar. 8, 1803. Jeremiah Reeves, Malachi Reeves, Test.

Comments: 1) The date of John Holmes' death is sometimes, incorrectly, given as 1806. He died shortly before the will was probated, hence in early 1803. 2) The Geo. Willis, Sr. mentioned was the father of Elizabeth Dabney Willis, who married John Holmes Milner, son of Pitt and Apsilla. 3) Mary Parks was widowed and married second Elisha Kendall.

I. The Myth

The myth about our John Holmes, which we find in various D. A. R. applications and publications from the 1890's on, has it that he was a Justice of the Peace in St. George's Parish (Burke County) in 1774; that he was rector of a church in the same parish; that he was chaplain of General McIntosh's brigade or in the 1st Georgia Regiment, enlisting in 1776; that he was among the men in Georgia proscribed by the Crown from holding public office; that he was a founder and the chaplain of the Georgia Society of the Cincinnati. Some of these misconceptions were repeated in Ettie T. McCall's Roster of Revolutionary Soldiers in Georgia, published by the Georgia Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution in 1941, and in the recent history of Wilkes County, We Have This Heritage, by Robert M. Willingham. Some accounts also have him a schoolmaster in Savannah, and two D. A. R. applicants have him a captive on the prison ship "Pack Horse."

Research leads me to conclude that the events described above do not belong to the life of our John Holmes. The reason for the error is very simple. A John Holmes was indeed rector of a church in St. George's Parish, a J. P. there, was proscribed from public office by the Crown (1780), was Chaplain of the Eighth or Rifle Company of Col. McIntosh's brigade (raised in 1776), was an original member and chaplain of the Georgia Society of the Cincinnati. But he was not our John Holmes, who married Chloe Bentley, died in Wilkes County in 1803, and left children.

How did the legend ever get started? George White's Historical Collections of Georgia was published in 1854, and gives all the information in the preceding paragraph. The ladies joining the D. A. R. knew their John Holmes had served in the Revolution and assumed that White's John Holmes was their ancestor and so added data from White to their rather sparse information on Holmes from family sources. That this assumption is incorrect appears as we examine the data.

The first thing to realize is that John Holmes was not such an uncommon name. Since some of the information alleged that our John Holmes lived at one time in Savannah, I read, on microfilm, all the appropriate references shown in the index in the Savannah newspaper, The Georgia Gazette, from 1763 to 1799. I checked the references to Holmes, J. Holmes, John Holmes, Capt. John Holmes (the index here was in error; this man was Captain Joseph Holmes, a ship's captain), Rev. John Holmes, Rev. Holmes, and Mrs. Holmes. There were several John Holmes, none of whom appeared to overlap; one was John Holmes, Esq., a lawyer; one kept school; one was the Rev. John Holmes, of whom more later; one was a runaway sailor from New England; one had lived in St. Augustine but died in Savannah in 1785. Then there is John Holmes of Charleston who advertised for a runaway slave (may be the same man as John Bee Holmes of Charleston); the Rev. Abiel Holmes of the Sunbury Colony in Liberty County, from whom the two Oliver Wendell Holmes, father and son, descended; and many others.

Some have attempted to place our John Holmes in Charleston but the evidence for this is slim. The schoolmaster in Savannah, who advertised in the paper, is probably the origin of the idea that our man taught school there, which, considering what is known about the rest of his life, is unlikely. However, most of the confusion comes from the fact that events relating to the life of the Rev. John Holmes, mentioned above, who, as we shall see, is the one mentioned in White's Historical Collections of Georgia, have been appropriated for our John Holmes.

The Rev. John Holmes, however, died in 1784, apparently unmarried.

I think it worthwhile to give what is known about this Rev. Holmes. The Georgia Gazette for April 1, 1784, page 2, carries this notice: "Died, on Tuesday last, the Rev. John Holmes, who for some time past officiated as Rector of Christ Church. His remains were interred yesterday evening, attended by the Most Ancient and Honorable Masons, and a great number of Respectable Citizens."

The Georgia Gazette for April 8, 1784, page 1, carries a long proposed epitaph:

"The following epitaph is designed for the Tomb Stone of the Rev. John Holmes, deceased:

THIS STONE
Is sacred to the memory
OF THE REVEREND JOHN HOLMES,
Late Rector of Christ Church Parish
AND CHAPLAIN
Of the State Society of the Cincinnati.
He was

He suffered Captivity with Patience
Remained stedfast in his Principles,
AND SAW THE
GLORIOUS REVOLUTION ACCOMPLISHED.
As
A Gentleman of exalted Genius,
Extensive Erudition and strict Integrity,
He lived in general Estimation
AND DIED
March 30th, A. D. 1784, in Savannah
Aetatis Suae
ELI(?these figures are illegible)
UNIVERSALLY LAMENTED.

OF
Wisdom without Pedantry;
OF GENUINE WIT
With Unbounded Philanthropy
AND
Of acknowledged Eminence
Without a personal Enemy,
THIS CHARACTER
IS DRAWN BY A FRIEND
To whom his many Virtues were known."

Note that there is no mention of grieving wife nor bereaved children. (Both newspaper quotations may be found in the University of Georgia Libraries, Microfilm Collection, Georgia Gazette Jan. 30, 1784-Oct. 16, 1788, FILM AN 13 S45 G42 r.l.)

I think that the above proposed epitaph adequately disposes of the notion that our John Holmes was ever rector of Christ Church or chaplain of the Society of the Cincinnati--unless one assumes that the Society had two chaplains, both miraculously named John Holmes. The Rev. John Holmes was indeed held captive, but I don't know where our ladies got the idea about our man being on the prison ship "Pack Horse"!

One might think that our John Holmes could have been the one who was chaplain of the Eighth Company of Col. Lachlan McIntosh's brigade, and/or a J. P. in St. George's Parish and/or rector of a church there, and/or on the list of men forbidden to hold public office put out by the British government in 1780. As for the last item, I think it obvious that when one compares the lives of the two John Holmes, that the only one prominent enough to be proscribed was the Rev. John Holmes of Christ Church Parish who died in 1784. In fact, our man was probably not in Georgia till 1784, after the close of the Revolution.

Furthermore, I have found material on the life of a Rev. John Holmes who was a missionary to St. George's Parish which strongly suggests that he was the same minister as the one who died in 1784. Following a footnote in Kenneth Coleman's Colonial Georgia, I found Religion and the State of Georgia in the Eighteenth Century by Reba Strickland (New York, Columbia University Press, 1939), which is in Special Collections, University of Georgia Libraries. In it, we learn that the Justices of the Peace were often clergymen (pages 122-123); and that the Rev. John Holmes of St. George's Parish and the Rev. William Percy were the only Anglican ministers known to have supported the rebel cause (page 149). Following her citation of a letter from Holmes (pages 113-114) to the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, I found the Society's papers on microfilm at the University of Georgia library, and read the two letters from Holmes they contain. Holmes had been sent to Georgia by the Society, the headquarters of which were in London, arriving in Savannah on December 5, 1773. His two letters, of 1774 and 1775, detail his labours in the wilderness of present Burke County, a great parish inhabited by only 400 families, half of them Presbyterian, where what little knowledge the settlers had they had "acquired from a parcel of illiterate Anabaptist preachers" and where murders by Indians had lately occurred. (The call number of this microfilm is: FILM BV 2500 A6A1 ser. C r.16.)

There is never any mention of wife nor children. And of course, we have never thought that our John Holmes arrived in this country in 1773. In fact, his oldest child Apsilla was born in 1770 in North Carolina.

I think that there can be no doubt that the intrepid bachelor missionary sent to Saint George's Parish by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel was the rector in that parish, mentioned in White's Historical Collections; that he was also a J. P. there. There is little doubt it was he who was chaplain of the Eighth or Rifle Company of Col. Lachlan McIntosh's brigade, raised in 1776; and very probable that he was the Rev. John Holmes later rector of Christ Church, Savannah, imprisoned during the Revolution by the British, and chaplain of the Georgia Society of the Cincinnati until his death in 1784.

Another consideration is that in the only period of his life for which we have much information, that from 1784 until his death in 1803 during which he was a settler in Wilkes County, Georgia, our John Holmes emerges as a farmer who had, it seems, fought in the Revolution. Probably a robust character and certainly hard-working, as any successful settler had to be. He does no school-teaching, no preaching. Nothing indicates his being a learned man nor one-time minister. He does not appear to have joined any church. (His wife Chloe and son John joined the Sardis Baptist Church in Wilkes County, but there is no mention of the older John in the church minutes. Incidentally, Sardis is the church to which John and Elizabeth Milner, Pitt and Apsilla Milner, and George and Susannah Willis belonged.)

II. Other Information and Avenues for Exploration

In the absence of family Bibles, the earliest documentary evidence we have for our John Holmes dates from 1784 and is from Georgia. In 1784 he takes up a total of 662 acres in Wilkes County, in four grants (two bordering John Milner's land.) How do we know that it is our John Holmes? Not only because we know from his will that he lived in Wilkes County, but because when he sells some of the land, his wife Chloe's name appears on the deed also. See, for example, Davidson's Early Records of Georgia, Volume 1, page 274. The originals of these grants are at the Surveyor-General's Office in the Georgia Archives building, Atlanta, Georgia 30334, and they are, of course, recorded in Wilkes County deed books. Davidson's book is well indexed and you will find numberous references to John Holmes therein; her summary of his will has already been cited.

John Holmes' land grants in Wilkes County, on file at the Surveyor-General's Office do not specify that they are bounty grants, hence they could have been granted under the headright system,which did not require prior military service. However, a John Holmes received 287½ acres in Washington County, Georgia, on a grant signed on June 5, 1784, for which the warrant number was 2458 (L. L. Knight, Georgia's Roster of the Revolution, Atlanta, 1920, page 201). The number of acres (250 with no taxes or 287½ with taxes) was the standard number given to ex-soldiers. I believe this John Holmes to be our man. Many men who settled in Wilkes County had received grants elsewhere, particularly in Washington County, which, like Franklin County, was created in 1784 expressly to provide a framework for grants (headright and bounty) for the settlers pouring into Georgia.

It is uncertain what John Holmes' rank was, though he is sometimes listed as Captain. Captains of militia districts were commonly called Captain, which may be the origin of John Holmes' title. Davidson (Volume 1, page 129) cites Inferior Court minutes of 1795 appointing "Captain John Holmes and Pitman Milner"(doubtless our Pitt Milner) road surveyors.

Research is needed on John Holmes' birthplace, perhaps indeed Caroline County, Virginia, and on his parentage.

The Bentley line is almost as little known.

John Holmes' son James was born in a fort, according to tradition found in some branches of the family, but whether John Holmes commanded a fort during the Revolution, as some D. A. R. applications state, is not supported by any evidence. James was born in Wilkes County after the war, on April 24, 1785, according to his descendants. There were during the war five different forts in Wilkes County--Fort Heard (later the town of Washington); Heard's Fort, also sometimes called Fort Heard, which was on Fishing Creek; Clarke's Fort; Freeman's Fort; and Fort James (see Robert M. Willingham, We Have This Heritage, Washington, Georgia, Wilkes Publishing Co., 1969). If James was born in any one of these buildings earlier used as forts, he would have nevertheless been "born in a fort". I wonder whether he was born in Heard's Fort on Fishing Creek, since one of Holmes's grants was on that creek and he may have lived there for a while. This creek is in the eastern part of the county.

Incidentally, Holmes's other grants were in the western part of the county, and it has been thought that he lived in the western part.

Apsilla Holmes Milner is said in the 1850 census of Henry County, Georgia, to have been born in 1770 in North Carolina. (Apsilla was then a widow and living with her daughter, Penelope Milner Eason.) We know from land titles and

James Holmes' birth data that the family was in Georgia in 1784-1785. Yet a younger son, Josiah, is thought by his descendants to have also been born in North Carolina in 1788. The family may have returned to North Carolina to settle an estate or sell land. We do not know enough about John Holmes' North Carolina years.

If John Holmes was born in Virginia, was in North Carolina in 1770, and did not reach Georgia until 1784, he obviously could have spent the years of the Revolution in North Carolina. The North Carolina Department of Archives and History, Raleigh, North Carolina, has among its Treasurer and Comptroller Papers three Revolutionary Pay Vouchers made out to John Holmes (dating from 1779 to 1782, from Halifax District and Duplin County), but we cannot be sure at present these are for our John.

In State Records of North Carolina, edited by Walter Clark (Goldsboro, North Carolina, Nash Bros., 1899), Volume XVI, the Roster of the Continental Line is given. On page 1083 are listed Josiah Holmes and John Holmes, both enlisting as privates for 12 months beginning 18 December 1781. This is for the Continental Line, not militia nor home guard. Perhaps these are our John Holmes and a brother, since the name Josiah reappears among John's children.

I think it probable that John Holmes' military service took place in North Carolina. I wish we knew more about who he really was and what he really did. Maybe by digging into records and asking the right questions we can find out at least something more than we now know.

Dear Vivian and Dan,

This has been an exceptional year. Better health overall and exciting milestones for our family.

Dan came home from the hospital today. He has pneumonia again. This is the first hospitalization this year! Balance remains a primary issue. Lots of physical therapy to try to retrain his brain to vestibular and visual recognition. Don't know if it's possible to regain these losses yet. He is in good spirits and has the will to carry on despite the set-backs that pop up occasionally. He was unable to attend his mom's funeral. That was hard. Amy stayed with him while I went with Dan Jr. and Becky.

I had knee replacement surgery in April, long overdue. I just had additional surgery to remove built up scar tissue impeding movement of the knee cap. Once this heals I expect to be back to walking without stiffness. In July I received recognition from Girl Scouts for my work with the day camp. It was heart warming. This last summer marked 30 fun filled years with the camp. I'm not through yet, I still have more zany years left to share. All our grandchildren with the exception of Shawn (he outgrew us) are attending camp with me. Being able to share with them my enthusiasm for the out-of-doors and the joys of imagination make the work load to opening day lighter. I've taken up needlework again making holiday ornaments for the staff at Dan's dialysis center, a second home to us. So far I have 15 lacy houses made with tiny trees inside. I started the project the first of November and carry it everywhere I go. Using wait time fruitfully has improved my attitude!

Dan was unable to make the trip to Georgia for Alida's funeral. I went with Dan Jr. and Becky. Amy stayed home with her dad. He was glad he could make the trip in fall '05 to see her.

Dan Jr. is traveling again this year for CVS. He has been in southern California for the last 6 months, coming home every 10 days for 4 days. After Thanksgiving his territory was moved to Arizona for a few months. He moved several rungs up the project manager ladder this year and oversees a number of store remodels as CVS continues to purchase smaller drugstore chains. Patti is teaching preschool and loves it. The kids are fun, the hours are great, she's home in the summer. Shawn started high school this fall. He is taking after his grandfather, at 14 he's 6 feet tall. There may be more growing to come. He's taking guitar lessons. Victoria started middle school. She was very nervous to leave the comfort of her smaller school but she loves it now. She plays flute in the band. She has taken up Irish dancing, perfect with her long legs. Bethany has had to make lots of adjustments. Sister going on to another school and moving into her own room at home has left her a little sad. It's a growing experience for her. She fills her time with church, scouts, sports and dance school activities. It makes me tired to think about all they do and all the running around Patti does.

Amy is looking to go back to work full time. She has her home based editing business but misses the corporate world.. The kids school will miss her if she finds "the" job. She has been instrumental in setting up an after school program. She writes the proposals for grant money and does PR to get merchant sponsorship of clubs they have put together. She ran the Honolulu marathon last month. It will be her last one I think. She coached runners for the DC Marine Corp marathon this year also. She has a running club at the kids school. The twins are in first grade. They are loving it. Reading has opened up the world to Marty. He is very creative and loves art and crafts. Gina is a social butterfly. School comes easy to her. She's in Girl Scouts this year. Jordan is in 3rd grade. He has his father's gift of a photographic memory. School is very exciting to him. He and Dwayne are taking Karate lessons together. Dwayne decided to participate instead of sit and wait for him. They are both having a great time.

Becky passed her Real Estate licensing last month. She'll try her hand at selling. Working for ReMax has rubbed off on her. She's had good mentoring there. She has volunteered to work with a Lake Mills committee that is actively trying to preserve the character of the town. There is Main Street preservation going on now. There are many Victorian era buildings to save. It's a pretty little town. Gregg is busy with wiring their house. He has an extensive computer system and develops software in his spare time. Becky and Gregg will be here for Christmas. We see Becky more often than Gregg and are so happy he can get away this year.

We're pretty stay-at-home now. It can be disorienting for Dan to travel. Dan goes to our Senior Center when he can to watch the Pinochle game and put his two cents worth in. It's a nice group of men and women that play regularly. Dan's carpool played cards everyday during the ride into the city when we lived in Illinois. We are starting a remodel on the house this month to accommodate Dan's needs and spruce up some things. The house grows old with us. I think I won't even notice the remodeling mess considering the condition of the house after last week-end when all the grandchildren were here and "helped" decorate etc. There is a sea of empty boxes, that never made it back into our storage closets, in our downstairs family room. They found things I hadn't seen in years (and for good reason). I now know I should dispose of items when their time is up. We have some pretty ratty stuff decorating every surface as only a child can do it. Now the trick is to get them to come back and take it because my trash has become their treasure. It needs to live at their house after this year.

We wish you peace, health, and a happy new year.

Love,

Sandy

December 2004

Dear Vivian and Dan,

We had Thanksgiving, somewhat pilgrim style this year. We had a 12 hour power failure, just as we were finishing up cooking our meal. Some things were hot, others were luke warm and some were just plain raw. We ate by candle light, needed, not just for ambiance. Dwayne hauled our ice chest out of the attic to store the left-overs. Brought out the oil lamps, last used when we had a six day power outage last winter. The kids loved it! Our favorite time of year is here. We love the fall and early winter, before sleet, snow and ice shower Washington. It's been a beautiful fall. We celebrated our 44th wedding anniversary in October. Everyone in the family is looking forward to the Christmas season.

The 6 grandchildren and Amy, our "herder"--- oops helper, will spend the week-end before Christmas together with us. This has been an annual grandchild event since Shawn was 2. The twins will be joining us this year for the first-time. It's a shopping trip to the Dollar Store to buy gifts for their families and a huge wrapping fest later on. We take in a movie, have pizza out, make our "famous" gingerbread cookies with lots of icing on little faces, homemade hot chocolate and the reading of the Polar Express. I have convinced them that I indeed did take a ride on that train when I was their age and I produce a silver bell to prove it, which we hang on the tree. I have to give Shawn credit for his enthusiasm to keep the magic alive for the younger ones. When the age of reason hit him and he figured out I most probably wasn't on the Polar Express he hid it well. Gina is looking forward to sharing a bedroom with her cousins. Having two brothers is hard to bear sometimes. It's a big giggle fest at bedtime when they are all together. It's become "boys versus the girls", thanks to Shawn and his protégé Jordan, who are in playful competition with Victoria, Bethany and Gina. Marty is sleeping in both camps. Having a sister for a twin puts him in conflict!

Dan Jr. had another back surgery this year and has finally gone back to work full time. He was given a 24 hour CVS as his new management assignment. With 2 assistant managers he can work varied hours which he likes. He also works as a trainer for new store managers. He's a workaholic. The hours are long. Patti takes in all in stride. She won't see much of him until after Christmas. She has her hands full volunteering at the middle and grammar school. Shawn is in 7th grade, Victoria 4th grade and Bethany 1st grade. She also teaches a Sunday school class. Dan has taken on the middle school church group. He's got the perfect personality to work with this age and he is a kid at heart.

Amy and Dwayne are working together once in a while now. DelMarva Foundation, Dwayne's employer, as hired her as a free lance copy editor. She works mainly from home so she can spend time during the day with the kids. Jordan is in first grade and the twins attend afternoon preschool. She is expanding her client base and has been pretty busy with her former full-time employer organizing conferences for them. She has taken on her church newsletter. They are slowly remodeling their house in Easton. Her father-in-law has retired and is working on it as money permits. She just moved into her new home office in the basement.

Becky and Gregg have bought a lot in Lake Mills, WI and their house plans are with the draftsman now. They probably will wait until spring to break ground. She "retired" from audiology to cut down on the stresses associated with her practice and simplify her life. She now works as an administrative assistant in the ReMax real estate office in Lake Mills. It's such a small town, she knows lots of people and loves the work. Her boss owns a lot of different properties and businesses in the town, so the work is varied. She's learning a lot about property management and all aspects of running a business. She's back in college part-time, taking courses that may turn this job into a new career.

We have had a life altering year. Dan was put on kidney dialysis in Feb. In March he suffered a mild stroke followed by a series of seizures, that left him with problems with short term memory, concentration and with some cognitive impairment. A problem with balance is the only after effect of the stroke. The seizures for the most part are under control. He had to quit work and can't drive but he maintains a positive attitude. With all the changes we have had to endure, it's nothing compared to not having him with us. We are so thankful for what we do have together.

Dan is playing Pinochle again. His carpool used to play, over the seat, while they commuted into Chicago to work. He now plays with a group at our Senior Center. It's good for him to stretch his mental abilities to try to remember cards played. Rockville has a great Seniors recreation program and has converted an old elementary school into a wonderful center where lots of activities are running everyday.

I am preparing to start staff recruitment for day camp 2005 in Jan. It's always fun to meet new people and promote a program near and dear to me. Won't be long before we start registering girls and gearing up for another summer. It's a way of life at our house. Dan came with me to camp many days last summer and finally got to see what it is I really do. He had a good time. We both have been on the girl scout council property maintenance committee for this camp for many years. He has many hours invested in the upkeep of this property. Knows it inside out. He had fun talking to our old friends that volunteer each summer and watching the girls enjoy our zany camping program. All the kids except Shawn spent two weeks with us this summer and attended day camp. Amy was a unit leader for a Brownie group. The last time she attended camp was as a unit counselor when she was 17. Although 20 years have gone by, she said camp was just as she remembered it. Marty and Gina enjoyed our preschool program for staff members kids and loved sharing with Grandpa the days adventures. Marty caught a toad but made sure Grandpa knew he would let it go back to its home before we left that day. Jordan lost no time continuing a "legacy" left by Shawn when he was in our boys unit. With Shawn's coaching he was able to fit right in with the returning boys. I choose not to know what it is he is continuing. I'm sure a gross behavior indigenous to grammar school boys. Shawn thought he would miss day camp, since he has exceeded our age limit of 11, but got to go to boy scout overnight camp for a week. One of his troop mates couldn't go at the last minute and Shawn was able to take his place. That made the transition much easier. Bethany celebrated her 6th birthday at camp with our special camp rendition of the birthday song "Hippo-Birdy-Two Ewes" sung by the entire camp. We hold up a stuffed hippo, parrot, and 2 sheep for visual effect. Each July birthday child gets our serenade. Victoria moved up a program level which allowed for a more advanced cooking menu. New skills to learn in a more hands-on environment. All in all we all had a busy and fun summer. As the year closes, we have good memories to sustain us

We wish you good memories in 2005.

Love,

Dandy

Dear Vivian,

Here is the information you requested for our family. It's a big job to research a family tree, but I know you wouldn't do it if it wasn't interesting and fun. Like a big puzzle to solve.

My sister Diane is researching both our parents, the Baker and Conrad families. It's an avocation for her. She has spent years on it. Her travels to local county court houses and cemeteries have taken her to Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Norway and Germany. She has copied obits, land records, military records, tracked down old pictures and newspaper articles and interviewed family and friends. She found a forgotten family cemetery in trees at the edge of a farmer's field and with the land owners permission restored it with the help of her husband. It's amazing what she has found. On our father's side we have a grandfather… that fought at Gettysburg with the Illinois 1st Calvary and then attended the 50th anniversary of the battle. On my mother's side we have a grandfather… 1696-1760 whom among other things negotiated treaties with the Mohawk Indians, and is one of the founder's of Reading, PA. His homestead is a PA state park 3 hours from us. Our grandson Jordan had a school assignment to make a presentation about a famous American and chose this relative, Conrad Weiser. He loved going to the homestead to take pictures and researching Conrad's life. My sister sent him a book written about Conrad to help in his presentation. If not for her efforts this extraordinary man would have been lost to us. It's interesting to see the migration of these families from Europe to the east coast and on to the Midwest; from Norway to Iowa to join relatives already homesteading here. She has provided my other sister and I with binder's full of history to pass on to our grandchildren.

I know you sent Dan the results of your Jordan family research many years ago. We would love an update when you have time. I know many people that don't care about the past that much but I find it fascinating. I'm grateful to you and my sister for taking the time to do this research. It makes the family rich with heritage.

Your story about how close your daughter's birthdays are is interesting. Looking forward to a Great Grandchild has to be a most exciting thing now. I hope what I have sent you is in the correct format. I had a copy of Broderbund's Family Tree Maker for my computer but that was several computers ago and it isn't compatible with anything anymore. My time now is so taken up with daily living that the extra's of life are carefully chosen so I am not over-extended, something I was once famous for. I feel the push to accomplish the things I started now that I am older. I have oodles of projects "in production" and files of projects I would like to try, but life is too short now to enjoy all these things. I need to declutter our house, but for a pack-rat like me it's a daunting chore. I see value in almost everything. Our adult children do not want my "treasures" but I send things of interest home with our grandchildren. It's a sneaky way to get rid of stuff.

Love,
Sandy

Subj: TIP#224 - MIGRATORY PATTERNS

TIP #224: MIGRATORY PATTERNS

According to the Kentucky Encyclopedia, "the movement of settlers into Kentucky began in the 1770s when it was still a part of Virginia. " This came about of course, due the issuance of land warrants to the veterans of the French and Indian War and the Revolutionary War. Movement continued for several years in the boundaries of what became the Commonwealth of Kentucky with most settlers coming overland through the Wilderness Road and by water down the Ohio River.

With the 1850 census, Kentucky decided to track places of birth on its citizens. Most of the settlers came from neighboring states with Virginia giving up the largest amount of its people followed by Tennessee, Ohio, North Carolina and Pennsylvania. This changed so that by 1870, most of Kentucky's new arrivals came from Tennessee and 100 years later, from Ohio. There were also large numbers from Indiana, Illinois and West Virginia whereas North Carolina and Pennsylvania dropped sharply.

Kentucky has never ranked high in foreign immigrants. In 1850, there were approximately 31,400 so shown, less than 4 percent of the state's population. The highest recorded tally was in 1870 with 63,400. This took a dramatic decrease over the next few years and in 1980 less than 1% of the citizens claimed foreign birth. The latter is to be found in a large degree in the towns with universities and colleges.

Where did some of our Kentucky citizens go when they left Kentucky? There was a dramatic shift to the west in the 19th century and another shift to the north in mid 20th century. Missouri and Texas claimed the largest amount of Kentucky people in 1850 and this trend continued until about 1910. Gradually, according to the Kentucky Encylopedia (p. 636) this trend shifted again then to the north and northwest with Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan becoming the major destinations. Why did they move? Good and inexpensive land, industrial jobs lead the list.

Some selected states who took our people!

CALIFORNIA: "Thar's gold in them thar hills!" rang out and enticed many from Kentucky and other states. Mexico ceded California to the United States in 1848 and the gold fever struck almost immediately. It is said that the gold rush increased the population of California from 15,000 to 250,000. Many a Kentucky lad packed up his vittals and headed out in groups formed in many towns to strike it rich. Information on California can be found at the CAGENWEB site at: http://www.compuology.com/cagenweb/

ILLINOIS reached statehood in 1818, formerly known as the American Territory in 1797 and then the Illinois territory in 1809. Settlers began arriving here in numbers in 1825 with most of the coming from the eastern states and from foreign countries. Many Kentucky residents who headed off to the Illinois Territory were attracted by good land, and industries that sprung up around the Lake Michigan area. The St. Clair county area was the first county organized in IL with many Kentuckians' names showing up on records there. For a wonderful view of the settling of Illinois go to this URL: http://www.museum.state.il.us/exhibits/athome/index.html It is part of the ILGENWEB project and takes the reader on a visual and written tour of the beginnings of the state.

INDIANA was known as the Indiana Territory until reaching statehood in 1816. Vincennes was one of the first developed area Knox, Harrison, Switzerland and Clark Counties were early settlement locations for many settlers, including those from Kentucky. Many Quakers left Tennessee on the slavery issue and headed to Wayne and Randolph counties along the Ohio border. For a good look at Indiana, check out the INGENWEB page at: http://www.usroots.com/~kyseeker/indiana/index.html

KANSAS drew many Kentuckians to its lands. This was part of the Louisiana Purchase when it was annexed in 1803, then became a state in 1861. In 1861, Kansas had about 110,000 citizens drawn primarily from the southern states including Kentucky. An excellent history of Kansas can be found at the KSGENWEB site at: http://skyways.lib.ks.us/genweb/index.html

OHIO became a state in 1803, again part of the Northwest Territory. The Virginia Military Bounty area was here with over a quarter of a million acres set aside for the soldiers and was heavily settled by Virginians and Kentuckians about the year 1800. The Chillicothe section in Ross County, OH attracted a great number of Kentuckians and Tennesseeans. After this, other districts were opened up for settlement and Scotch-Irish, Germans and Quakers came in from Pennsylvania and other states.

MICHIGAN: Michigan became a state in 1805 after being a part of the Northwest Territory. Many were drawn early to this state because of public land sales, the Erie Canal, the territorial road through the Kalamazoo Valley in 1829. Lumbering and oil drew many speculators and citizens as it took many men to work these trades. Later, the industrial growth of Michigan drew many in automobile manufacturing.

OKLAHOMA, although not among the highest in the list of snagging Kentuckians, did entice many of its citizens there. "Oklahoma's lands were opened in five land runs, land lottery, land auction and enlarged by a decision of the Supreme Court. See the OKGENWEB page at : http://www.brightok.net/~smcb0824/oklands.html for more information.

TENNESSEE: Tennessee followed Kentucky into statehood four years later with many of its citizens coming from North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia. Only the eastern counties were originally settled and many wandered northward into Kentucky. For an excellent look at Tennessee's first people, check out the TNGENWEB page at: http://www.tngenweb.org/

TEXAS led an interesting early development by the time it became a state in 1845. It has had the flags of 6 governments fly - France, Spain, Mexico, The Republic of Texas, The Confederacy and the United States. It is stated that in 1820 there were less than "four digits" of white settlers in this vast land. Shortly after that, individuals from Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee became coming in under the leadership of Moses and Stephen Austin. For some wonderful Texas style history, check out the TXGENWEB pages at: http://www.rootsweb.com/~txgenweb/

Today, every state in the Union can lay claim to have Kentuckian blood running through their veins. They can be found in every political office, in every pulpit, in outer space. Hearty stock they are!

I will likely have other posts about churches or communities who packed up and moved together as I am able to locate the materials.

Copy of Hill Memoranda
by
John Lindsay Hill

This "Memoranda" was compiled by John Lindsey Hill, 18th child of Reverend Nicholas Hill, Revolutionary Soldier, and his 4th wife.

It appears that John L. Hill sent to all the then known Hill relatives asking for data on the family. Then he put together the following "Memoranda". If my grandfather, Enders Stanton Hill, ever had one or talked of one, his children say that they knew nothing about this little booklet.

By chance I found a cousin, Shirley J. Schofield, in Danville, Illinois, who had joined the DAR using this information as part of her proof. She most generously let me have her copy of the Hill "Memoranda" and the following is the xerox copy of same. The page numbering is a little off, but this is as I found it.

Under separate cover, I have included the Stephen Mosher Hill and John A. Sterling records that had been added by my Illinois cousins. Stephen Mosher Hill was the 1st child of Rev. Nicholas Hill and his 3rd wife, Sarah Mosher(as it is spelled on the Bible page). My Francis Asbury Hill, was the 2nd child by this third wife.

The Revolutionary service of Nicholas Hill is well documented in the "Selected Pension and Bounty Records of the Revolutionary War".

If any reader can add information to this or can correct any errors, please contact me.

Prefatory Memoranda.

This memoranda is not intended as a biographical sketch. If time had permitted I should have been glad to have attempted even that - for I believe that, (for purely private purposes) father's memory, his career, his work and successes in life are worthy of such an effort. But that is not the present object. I seek mainly to gather up and formulate data which we ought not to forget and which, some time or other, will be of interest. I have been led to attempt the latter work because I have taken a liberty which, with some of the reasons for it, is hereinafter mentioned; and I deem it but just that the members of the family should not remain in ignorance of the facts. I refer to the removal of the remains from the old farm-burying-ground to the Vale Cemetery at Schenectady, N.Y.

The association of ideas connected with this work has led me to gather up and record these fragmentary data; and, while doing that, it occurred to me that I might thus stir up among others some interest to recall and possibly write out and send me memoranda of incidents in father's life which would be worth preserving and which, some day, may be put in better form. I shall, therefore, be very glad if any members of the family shall send me any contributions for that purpose. The least will be thankfully received.

Reminiscences.

Very little of father's ancestors can be alleged with certainty, beyond those records which he made as of facts within his own knowledge and the memoranda kept by his descendants. He preserved no record of his ancestors. It would seem that he never made any himself or obtained any from them. We have his own memoranda of facts within his recollection and a few traces gained from other sources. In explanation of this fact it should be remembered that the condition of the country at and immediately preceding his birth was not favorable either to the making or preservation of such memoranda. Strangely enough father made no entry, which I have been able to find among his memoranda, of even the name of his father or mother. Happily, however, these facts were incidentally stated by him in writing for other purposes. They have often been stated by him orally, within the recollection not only of myself but of my mother and many others who still survive.

From these sources it may be and is stated with certainty that both his father and grandfather resided at the vicinity of Schenectady, in this State, so early as about 1750 to 1760. His grandfather was a native of Londonderry, Ireland.

Both his father and grandfather were Protestants as was his mother also. It is not unlikely that these circumstances exercised a potent influence upon the political convictions of the family. It is certain, at least, that they were early and unanimously [illegible] sympathy with the ideas of those leaders of American thought which led to the Declaration of Independence. I have often heard my father narrate the circumstance which led him at the early age of ten and his brother Harry at the age of eight to enlist in the Federal service as drummer-boys. It seems that when they were respectively eight and six years of age, their mother was compelled to stand by with them and see their father publicly causelessly and most atrociously whipped by British military officers, for some words which he had uttered and which they professed to regard as simply disrespectful toward their Sovereign. Father often spoke of this circumstance and always with a deep feeling of indignation. Instead of fading from his memory this sense of injustice and outrage seemed to increase as he grew older. He said that himself and Harry - then mere children - were inspired with a desire and solemnly determined to resent that insult. They were taught to cherish and respect this sense of wrong to their father until his death, which occurred just prior to their enlistment.

About the Winter of 1776-7, they left their mother and sister, ~~Martha~~ NANCY MARTHA, at Schenectady, enlisted in the Federal service, as drummer-boys, and returned after their discharge at the end of nearly seven years, to find that their mother had not long survived her husband. I have not been able at this writing (Dec. 1880) definitely to ascertain the Company or Regiment in which father enlisted. But his original discharge signed by Gen'l Washington (now in the possession of Mrs.

Nicholas Hill, at Morrisania, N.Y.) states the fact that on the 8th of June, 1783, "Nicholas Hill, Sergt. in the First "New York Regiment, having faithfully served the United "States five years & being enlisted for the war only, is hereby "discharged from the American Army." At the foot of this discharge is a memo. signed by "Cornelius Van Dyck, Lt. Col." as follows: "The above Sergt. Nicholas Hill has been honored "with the badge of merit for five years faithful service." Endorsed upon the paper in father's handwriting is the following: "My Captains name was Benjamin Hicks, Nicholas Hill." In giving the foregoing date of enlistment I have used the term "about 1776-7", for the reason that some confusion seems to exist in these dates. It would appear from the discharge that he had served "five years", which, if taken as the exact term of service, would indicate his enlistment as late as June 8th, 1778. I do not, however, understand that the term spoken of in the discharge is exact. There was full five years service. But there was more. Father always spoke of it as "nearly seven."

In striving to reconcile this seeming inconsistency I have examined the Documentary History of New York which contains some of the muster rolls of these old companies, but neither father's nor uncle Harry's names appears as enlisted men. But the documents there preserved disclose the fact that the First New York Regiment was commanded by Alexander McDougall as Colonel, Aug. 4th 1775, while Goose Van Schaick was at that time Colonel of the Second Regiment, with Peter Gansevoort as Major. It does not appear that Benjamin

Hicks had command of a Company in either of those Regiments during 1775 - but he was a Captain of the Fourth Company of the Second Regiment in 1776 and 1777, and numbered 18 in order of promotion. Another circumstance, is that Cornelius Van Dyke was St. Col. of this Second Regiment (Van Schaick's) in 1777, having been Col. of draft Militia in 1776, and 6th Captain in 1775. This is the man who signed the memo. upon father's discharge as St. Col. in First Regt in June 1783. It also appears that afterwards four battalions were formed, and that the officers of the First Regiment were officers of that battalion, Van Schaick being Col., Van Dyke being Lt. Col. - but it does not appear that Peter Gansevoort was Major. This was Nov. 11, 1776. It does appear, however, that Benjamin Hicks was Captain of the Fourth Company of this First Battalion. It would, therefore, seem that the First Battalion was nearly but not quite identical in officers with the Second Regiment, because Peter Gansevoort was not Major of the First Battalion - that office being filled by Christopher P. Yates - I do not find the fact any where stated, but I thus infer that there must have been some sort of reorganization of the First and Second Regiments into this First Battalion. This inference is a little shaken by my recollection of father's statement that Gansevoort as well as Van Schaick and Van Dyke were among his Superior Regimental officers; while, if the foregoing official memo. is accurate, Gansevoort was not an officer of the First Regiment or Battalion at all. Be that as it may, father's recollection is quite accurate as to his membership of Hicks' Company and Van Schaicks Regiment. It seems that, from October 21, 1776, when Hicks was authorized to recruit at Albany by the committee under General Schuyler, down into 1777, he (Hicks) was variously employed in recruiting for his Regiment and in dispersing and arresting disaffected persons off in the neighborhood of Knowersville and about what is now known as Slingerlands on the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad. The neighborhood was referred to variously as the "Helleburgh", "Hellebarough" and "Hillebarack". This was only eight or ten miles from Schenectady and corresponds in date so nearly with father's story of his age at the time of his enlistment (10 years, i.e. Dec. 22d 1776) that I feel quite safe in saying not only that he was discharged from Capt. Hicks' Company in 1783, but was enlisted into or connected with it in Dec. 1776. It is possible that he was too young to be received as an enlisted soldier or musician, and this may be the reason why the names of neither father nor uncle Harry, appear on the muster rolls being respectively eight and ten years old - mere children who could play a fife or beat a drum. But the fact of Hicks' presence as Capt. of a Company in Van Schaick's Regiment with authority to recruit, and being engaged in recruiting, in that immediate neighborhood, seems a striking corroboration of father's recollection - and indeed of our recollection of his statements.

This inference finds farther corroboration in the details which father often narrated of his personal experience during the war. In the old Revolutionary stories which he so often repeated to us, I have heard him say that his enlistment was when he was "only ten years old"; and again that it was in the "Winter of 1776" - which would seem to show that his recollection of dates was correct, reckoning from his birth - Decbr 22, 1760: and again, that he went on foot from some point up the Mohawk Valley, near Vroomans Nose (or Canajoharie) - running all night; to the Headquarters at Albany, to carry a message relating to an anticipated attack on Fort Stanwix (Rome, N.Y.) This was in the Winter, but toward the Spring of 1777, as he has often told me of running over the crust of the snow. Again, I remember that I once had the notion that he was at the battle of Oriskany which occurred in August 1777; but, on asking the question, he told me that he was not at that battle, being then on his way towards the South - somewhere along the Hudson River. Then again, although I find no historical statement of the presence of father's Regiment at Valley Forge, I am certain that he has often told the family of the suffering which he endured at that place with the army - I remember especially an incident which occurred at that place and of which he used to tell us. He said it was nearly the only occasion when he ever tasted liquor. The soldiers were at the point of starvation - The officer brought a gill of whiskey to be divided among the twelve soldiers in his tent. His share was only about a teaspoonful - But, in his exhausted condition, it so overpowered him that some strong Irishman

(I am sorry to have forgotten the full name - but I remember that it was Valentine somebody) took him on his back and carried him a long distance on their way in search for succor. (It was also during this winter that father was honored and relieved from much of the suffering which his comrades were called to endure, by the friendship of Baron Frederick William Augustus Steuben, who, it will be remembered, was directed by Congress, then sitting at York, Pa., to join the Army at Valley Forge. He was very kind to father - even affectionate - and later, when his Regiment was in Virginia, offered to adopt him as his son. The poor boy did not know that he was then motherless as well as fatherless, the result chiefly of British cruelty. He used to say to us that if he had known this fact then, he would have accepted this beneficent offer. He, however, declined it because he then expected soon to return to his mother.

Baron Steuben, both at Valley Forge and in Virginia, took father into his own camp, permitted him to enjoy the comforts of his own table, gave him clothing from his own private wardrobe, and even money from his own purse.

In the Summer of 1779, father went with his Regiment, under Col. Van Schaick, to co-operate with General John Sullivan, going up the Mohawk Valley from Schenectady into Tryon County. It would seem that he crossed the edge of what is now known as Otsego County and thence towards - if not into Chemung - General Sullivan had entered the same locality from the south in vicinity of Tioga County. The object of the expedition was to rout the Indians, by breaking up their villages, destroying their crops and camps, and other means of retaliation - adopting many of the severities which they had employed against the whites -

After this expedition the five N. Y. Regiments were ordered toward the south, intending to co-operate with the main forces which were about New York, and from that point towards Yorktown. He was with the army during the Winter of 1779-80, at Morristown, which, if possible, was a period of greater suffering than at Valley Forge. He was also at the battle of Yorktown, and, by reason of the favor of Steuben to whose command he had been specially attached, he was permitted to witness the ceremony of the surrender. He used to tell us of an incident which there occurred, and which I have not seen stated in the history of that event. It is so many years since I have thought of it that I may have confused some of the names of the Generals specified by father. If it were not for the fact that some historians have stated that Lord Cornwallis was not present at the actual ceremony of the surrender (being, as some say, indisposed) I should have said that it was he, who (according to father's story) presented his sword to General Washington, who replied - "Give it to General (I think) Lafayette, my Lord." and, when it was thus tendered, he replied "Hand it to General Lincoln." When it was offered to the latter, he said,

"bear it, my Lord. I'll not call you the damned rascal which you called me at Charleston." It is quite likely that I have confused some of these names. It may not have been Cornwallis who offered the sword. It may not have been Lafayette to whom General Washington first referred it. But I shall never forget father's repetition of the incident - the language of that colloquy in other respects being always the same:- and, what especially impresses it on my mind, was, the fact that father rarely - indeed I fail to recall an instance, except this one, in which, - even in narrating a conversation, he ever - repeated an oath. I am sure he attributed the language above given, to General Lincoln.

Father used often to tell us of the incidents of this battle of Yorktown. A few only come to my mind at this time. One was the utter surprise produced by the opening roar of the incessant cannonade. (for he never participated in any battle before this one where artillery was used.) He said he could hear absolutely nothing except the roar. He observed that the old soldiers' mouths were open, their lips seemed to move but he could hear no sound. By and by a passing French officer approached him in the trenches and said to him "Open your mouth, you little dog, you", and passed on. He tried the experiment and found that he could then hear quite well. Another was the almost utter annihilation of a poor fellow who took an axe to break away a projecting piece of board which prevented the movement of a heavy gun at an exposed point - He had volunteered to strike the blow, and had raised the axe, when, at that moment, his entire body was swept away into uncollectable fragments, save only the hands and parts of the arms, they fell with the uplifted axe which happily broke away the obstacles, so that the poor fellow's errand was after all accomplished. Still another related to a cowardly fellow who hid away in the bomb-proof - a place for the safety of ammunition The spot which was afterwards made of this chap and the names by which he was called among the soldiers are better remembered than written. Still another was the execution of a couple of deserters or spies - I can vividly recall the hush with which we used to listen to this recital - the solemn procession - the doomed man within a hollow square - his coffin and grave-clothes immediately in front of him - the note of the muffled drum - the slow, steady march to the time of old" "I think it was - This old tune seemed to have a peculiar charm for father. Many and many the times have I seen him sit by the fire, for hours at a time, - usually in the evening his form bent foward so that his chin rested in both his palms, an elbow on each knee, his hair as white as a camelia, and so he would either hum or in a low whizzing sort of whistle, would wander through the measures of this wild old minor strain, keeping time by rocking backwards and fowards in one or the other of two old family chairs, which he especially enjoyed. He preferred the one without rockers as it seemed more plainly to mark the slow times for him, and produced a dull sort of thud which we children always supposed "must be the muffled drum". At all events we learned that while we were sure that the old man's thoughts were away back among the days when "fourth of July" was born, and when the great Generals, Washington, Lincoln and Steuben, were realities, it wasn't very safe to interrupt the old soldier's reverie by asking for stories, or indeed by doing any thing except to attend strictly to business. We generally observed that " " was immediately succeeded by family-prayers, and if there was any giggling to be done that evening it was wisest to postpone the matter until after father had gone to bed.

Still another story related to father's rash and hazardous experiment in securing some pieces of money, under fire, on the field at Yorktown - But this has been told so often, and once or twice, I think, historically ( ) that it will be uninteresting without its details, which are too lengthy and too imperfectly remembered, to justify their use for the present purpose - I shall therefore only make this reference to the story, hoping that some other member of the family may recall and send me the details before I attempt to state those which I but imperfectly recall.

I mention these among other incidents not only because they are facts which will interest his descendants - but because they indicate the kind of fathers term of service was necessarily much longer than that specified in the discharge.

After the war father returned to Schenectady only to find that his mother was dead. She whom he expected to find and for whom he had declined a relation and patrimony which would have tempted almost any adventurous boy of fifteen, was gone forever. His sister and brother Harry were all that remained of the family and he was the eldest. The cruelty which had inspired his patriotism and converted the lad into a soldier, had first broken his father's health; and this, with his death, and the dangers and excitement of the war, surrounded as she was, at that place, by hostile and barbarous Indians, finally broke her spirit; so that, wearied of waiting for her babies who had gone to avenge their common insult upon the battlefield, she had followed her husband, and they now slept somewhere upon the beautiful plateau where the City now stands, but in unknown graves.

He soon moved to Floida, Montgomery County, N. Y., at a place called Shalletsbush. (Snells Bush?) (I never could exactly locate this place) Here he was first married, May 30th 1785. He remained at this place until December 13th 1790, when he moved upon a lot which he bought from one Henry Reevey and which formed a part of the old farm on which he resided at the time of his death. I have often heard him relate his early experiences in housekeeping. He said that he was oftentimes reminded of Valley Forge and Morristown, when, lying down to rest at night, he could look up through the shabby roof which the storms had perforated and see the stars glistening in the clear, blue, crisp winter sky. But he grew up with the country and soon forgot his early privations in the good which he could do for others.

I think it may be not only safely, but with strict truthfulness, said that father was an unselfish man. Industrious - indeed never idle, not even for that rest which he ought to have taken, but scarcely ever took even after eighty years of age, - generous even to that degree which forgets its duty to itself, and at the same time deeply impressed with that which I have often since thought was far in advance of the religious thought of his time, he spent his life in earnest and unselfish work. When he was about thirty-five years of age (1801) he determined to become a minister and preach. Among all the cares and labors of what must have been the rude and difficult farming of those days, he saved means to buy and found time to read the best books which were then obtainable. He was ordained at a Methodist Conference held at a place called Ash-Grove, which I think was somewhere on the edge of Vermont, under Bishop Francis Asbury some time during the year 1803. From this time until about 1830 to 1835, he spent much of his time as an itinerant Methodist preacher. His farm and its products kept him independent of that cringing, bread-seeking ministration which generally embarrasses if it does not quite neutralize the usefulness of many who dedicate their lives to that calling. He spoke what he thought and as the spirit moved him. I do not believe that it was ever said of him that he ever aimed simply to please or omitted to tell the plain truth as he saw it, from fear of the opinion of others

Although father ceased his active service as a regular preacher before I was born, I have often heard him both preach and speak in public on special occasions. I was too young to appreciate his qualifications or abilities as a public speaker, but there have been those in our family, and among our acquaintances, who were able to judge and whose opinion on such a matter was valuable. These have uniformly declared that he always had a good thing to say and that he always stopped when he had said it; that he always said it so clearly that listeners never failed to understand him; so forcefully that he was generally powerful, and that often he was even eloquent.

He lived to be eighty-nine years of age – in his ninetieth year – was always remarkably erect in figure, and that, even until the last. His health was exceptionally good. His final sickness and death were the result of an injury – a broken limb –. He died in June 1857, and was buried on the old farm, only a few rods from the place where his first house stood. It was a spot which he greatly loved, to which he often looked, and of which he often spoke as one speaks of a resting place when he is weary. It was hallowed by associations which were as numerous as they were varied, and which had been long in their accretion. He had out-lived slavery in his State, and in one corner of the little yard lay the bodies of "Old Will" and "Chin" and several other slaves who had come home to their old master to die. His sentiments upon that general topic may be well understood when it is stated that the piece of earth which was set apart for himself, his wives and children was not too good for these blacks. As they had always been called each morning and night to worship with the family around one common altar, so he laid them beside the place which he had set apart for his own grave and where he had buried those whom he loved best.

I think, too, that he had outlived if indeed he ever imbibed any considerable share of that cant which so often assumes the name and sits in the seat of piety. He had a great way of pricking pious bubbles, and often traced the solemnity of applicants for pious advice to a disordered stomach or congested liver. He often spoke of that which he called "balder dash" in religion, and, although he never mentioned names, he did not hesitate to speak plainly of a class whom he styled "pious nincompoops."

When the estate was settled up the family and its advisers supposed that the reservation of the old burying ground, together with the interest of survivors, would be sufficient to keep the places from the intrusions of strangers. But by and by the members of the family became widely scattered. None remained near the old farm. In 1874, I visited the old place. The farm was in the hands of strangers who felt no especial interest in this spot. The fences were down. The stones were disfigured. In some instances they were broken and beasts were literally enjoying the shade of rank brush and weeds which had grown up in the place. I then determined that, unless the family strenuously objected, those remains should be removed to some place where they would not be subjected to such neglect and indignity. I could think of no better or more appropriate place than at Schenectady, where he began his life, where his father and mother sleep in unknown graves. My mother, who was familiar with each place of interment, personally superintended the removal, and with great and commendable interest has accomplished the result. I hope that before this memo. shall reach the members of the family (for whose reading it is solely intended) a modest but substantial monument will have been completed and erected which with its place in Vale Cemetery shall more appropriately memorialize the name of so good a man.

Death of Miss Helen K. Sterling.

On Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, occurred the death of Miss Helen K. Sterling, at the home of Miss Maggie Hill, her niece. Some eight weeks ago Miss Sterling, while going up stairs, fell and broke her arm as well as suffering other severe injuries. Owing to her advanced age she did not regain her strength and her life ebbed slowly out.

Miss Sterling has spent the last several years with her niece, Miss Hill, at this place. She was an educated, cultured, religious lady, and although having few intimate friends here, she was much respected and loved by those who knew her best.

Miss Sterling was born in New York City in February, 1824, and at her death was nearing her eighty-eighth birthday. Her long life was spent in deeds of kindness, and in helping others to be happy.

Funeral services were held at the home of Miss Hill Christmas morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Grimes officiating. Her remains were laid to rest in Union cemetery.
